GUN-CRAZY DOC STARTS COURTROOM WAR

By PETE COOKE

An eccentric chiropractor convicted of a traffic offense ended up dead after he returned to court with an automatic handgun to demand a new trial.

The deadly drama began when 35-year-old Jeremey Sigmond walked into a Los Angeles courtroom and put a gun to the head of prosecutor Jessica Silvers.

"He said, 'Mrs. Silvers, you're coming with me,' " the prosecutor recalled.

Then, as Sigmond pulled the woman toward the judge's bench with a gun at her head, he said, "Silvers, we're going to settle this. I want a new trial."

Two days before the fatal confrontation Sigmond was convicted in the same courtroom on charges stemming from his arrest last fall when he led cops on a 115-mile-an-hour chase. At the time, Sigmond was wearing two bullet-proof vests and a crash helmet and carrying a .38 loaded with armor-piercing ammunition.

During his recent trial Sigmond testified that he thought he was being chased by the Mafia, not the California Highway Patrol. But after a two-week trial, jurors convicted Sigmond of four misdemeanor counts and he was released pending his sentencing hearing.

Instead, Sigmond came back to court two days later and took the prosecutor hostage. As he wrestled Mrs. Silvers toward the judge's bench, courtroom spectators dropped to the floor and bailiff Pat Warford reached for her gun.

"Don't touch your gun or I'll kill her," Sigmond said.

While the bailiff lowered her pistol to the floor, Judge Michael Harwin activated a silent alarm that rang in the bailiffs' room down the hall. Then, while Sigmond bent down to pick up the bailiff's gun, Mrs. Silvers broke free, ran to the jury room and barricaded herself inside.

Sigmond grabbed the gun from the floor, aimed both pistols at Judge Harwin and demanded a news conference. It was then bailiff Cliff Wofford entered the courtroom in response to the alarm. In the gun battle that broke out between Wofford and Sigmond, 13 shots were fired in just 20 seconds.

Wofford was wounded in the abdomen and Sigmond was killed in the exchange.

"Our information is that he was a very eccentric individual," said Los Angeles Police Lt. Charles Massey. "I don't know if he planned to kill someone. Obviously, things got out of hand."

HELD AT GUNPOINT: Deputy City Attorney Jessica Silvers explains how she was surprised by Jeremey Sigmond.

Stress is as deadly as AIDS, says doctor

Stress kills as many people as AIDS but doesn't get near the attention or funding for research, a top doctor reports.

Sandra Hartington Mills told a London conference that employers should compensate for government neglect by providing on-site stress management programs for their employees.

A whopping 65 percent of working men and women cite stress as their primary health concern, she said, adding: "The rewards in performance would be well worth the extra cost to a company of stress

Fairy-tale love story becomes a nightmare for teacher, 47, and his teenage bride

By PETE COOKE

What ultimately blossomed into love and marriage for Frederick and Kimberly Hone began as anything but a fairy-tale romance six years ago — when he was 41 and she was 11.

Kimberly met the man in her life when she was in grade school and he was her sixth-grade math teacher.

"It's sick . . . a nightmare," said Kimberly's mother, Rosemary Ryan of North Kingston, R.I.

Kimberly's parents tried everything they could think of to end the relationship, but nothing worked.

But Hone is now in jail, serving a 90-day sentence for violating a court order — by consorting with his own wife. Kimberly, who visits her husband in jail every evening, said he is also suffering neck pain because of an altercation with her father, Stephen Ryan.

"My father rammed into the back of our car, pulled my husband out of the car and beat him up," Kimberly told The NEWS.

Kimberly said she and Hone were nothing more than friends until she was 17.

"I can't point out one day when we suddenly fell in love," she said.

"It just happened over time. I was having a lot of family problems and he was someone I could trust. He gave me advice."

MOM-TO-BE Kimberly Hone met her husband when she was in his sixth-grade math class.

Hubby jailed for living with his wife!

HUBBY Frederick Hone, right, and his attorney. He was jailed

The Ryans take a different view of the man who has married their only child.

"He is like a cult figure," said Mrs. Ryan.

"He knows how to manipulate. My daughter did not do this on her own. He planted the seed."

When the Ryans suspected Hone was too involved with their daughter, they went to school and talked to officials who ordered Hone to stay away from Kimberly while on school grounds. Eventually the Ryans sent their daughter away to school and secured a court order forbidding Hone from seeing Kimberly.

But in February Hone and Kimberly went to Atlanta and got married. It was shortly after they returned to Rhode Island that Family Court Judge Edward Gallogly sent Hone to jail for violating the court order to keep away from Kimberly.

The judge said it was obvious that Hone had violated the order because "she's pregnant with his child."

He said the fact that Kimberly had become Hone's wife didn't matter. But the judge did free Kimberly from the control of her parents and the state and say she may live with Hone when he gets out of jail.

In the meantime, Kimberly is taking some junior college classes, preparing to take a test to get her high school diploma.

She is also getting the baby's nursery ready while she waits for Hone's release.

"I love my husband and he loves me," the young bride said.

"Look what he's gone through. He's in jail for me."

Woman murdered just a week after her hubby wins $581G in lottery

By DICK DONOVAN

A California mom, her throat slit from ear to ear, was found brutally murdered in her San Marcos home — just eight days after her husband had collected a $581,000 lottery payoff!

The blood-soaked body of 30-year-old Ann Marie Jenkins was discovered by her husband Gary when he returned home from work.

The couple's 10-month-old son apparently was in the house at the time of his mother's murder but was unharmed, said the infant had not been harmed.

Two other children were in school.

A spokesman for the San Diego County Coroner's Office revealed that in addition to having her throat slit, the victim had been strangled.

"We don't have a motive and we don't have a suspect," The NEWS. "The lottery angle doesn't appear to be significant and robbery wasn't a motive.

"Mrs. Jenkins was fully clothed and she was murdered in a hallway of her home where she was found. Her husband has been exonerated. He's not a suspect.

"Right now, we have no idea why she was killed.

"It's a murder without a motive."

Little kids just love to have their eyes checked by . . .

Dr. Dummy

By SUSAN JIMISON

Eye doctor Stephen Franzblau has a real dummy for a partner, which is why his practice is flourishing.

The West Palm Beach, Fla., optometrist delights his pint-size patients with white-jacketed "Dr. Seemore," a ventriloquist's dummy who chats it up with kids getting their eyes checked.

"I use him as a reward for kids who cooperate," Dr. Franzblau told The NEWS. "He helps relax them.

"I used to be a professional ventriloquist and I retired my dummy when I went into practice. Then about 10 years ago I got the idea to use the dummy with the kids. Now when they come back the next year the first thing they ask for is Dr. Seemore."

Franzblau learned ventriloquism at the age of 16 and worked his way through school entertaining television and nightclub audiences. He enjoyed show business, but he's never been sorry he gave it up to become a specialist in visually related learning disabilities in children.

"Can you see his lips move?" Dr. Seemore the dummy asks a young patient, indicating his friend Dr. Franzblau.

"If you can't, you really need to get your eyes examined!"

Most kids are charmed by the wooden doc and some even think he's real, Franzblau said. Their reactions depend more on kids' ages than on Franzblau's fascinating performance. "When they get older, they get wise. They start looking to see if my mouth moves," said Franzblau.

Wooden you know it? Doc's a ventriloquist!

Man charged with assault attacks another woman — 3 hours after he's let out on bail, say police

By JACK ALEXANDER

Gun-toting biker Larry Gremminger was accused of sexually assaulting a housewife three hours after he was bailed out of jail — on a rape charge.

"His bail was only $10,000 the first time, but now it's up to $250,000 and may go higher," said Los Angeles County Deputy Sheriff Dan Cox.

Gremminger, 49, forced a woman at gunpoint to strip and perform a sex act, according to police. "The woman broke away and ran to a neighbor's house for help," said Cox.

When Gremminger was confronted by neighbor Carl Sawyer, he drew his gun and roared away on his motorcycle. The neighbor sped after him in his car.

Several miles down the road Sawyer saw two patrol cars at a minor accident scene and told them about Gremminger.

Other law enforcement agencies were alerted and the chase was on.

The cops pursued Gremminger through three counties at speeds of 100 m.p.h. before his cycle ran out of gas.

The brazen biker ditched his cycle and drew his gun as cops surrounded him, said Cox. "He dropped his pistol when he realized he was outgunned," said Cox.

"And it's a good thing — for him — that he did."

Gremminger was booked back into the same slammer he was released from earlier in the day. He was charged with sexual assault, assault with a deadly weapon, burglary and several traffic offenses resulting from the high-speed chase.

"You might say the man had a busy day and one he'll remember for a long, long time," said Cox.

RAPE SHOCKER!

Tire victims spared parking fees

Big-hearted officials at Chicago's famed O'Hare International Airport decided not to levy parking fees against 60 cars — that had their tires punctured by vandals!

"We didn't charge them for parking because a lot of the owners had to spend $300 or more for new tires after they left here," explained O'Hare garage boss Ismael Hernandez.

Victims of the mad VAMPIRE DOC

By JOE BERGER

A world-renowned doctor is actually a real-life vampire who beheads beautiful models — then feasts on their flesh and drinks their blood!

Demented Dr. Teet Harm was convicted of murder in the death of tragic Katrina da Costa — and cops say he has committed at least six more ghastly vampire slayings in recent months.

'The man is a monster'

"The man is a monster," homicide detective Hans Johansson told reporters in Stockholm, Sweden.

"And what shocks me most is that he let his own little girl — his 5-year-old daughter — watch him decapitate one of those poor women. There's no way to measure the damage he's done to that child."

Amazingly, the hardhearted Harm, 35, was a crackerjack criminal pathologist who had helped cops solve countless killings around the world before setting out on his own odyssey of bloodlust and murder.

"He was one of the best in the world," Johansson said.

But the whiz kid crime-buster had such an insatiable — and displayed three ghoulish human skulls in his office.

The sicko sawbones also kept his dead wife's heart in a jar in his home, police said.

The death of stunning Anne Catherine Harm was recorded as a suicide when she was found hanged in the couple's bedroom back in 1982 — but cops are now convinced she was one of her heinous husband's earliest victims.

Recently, investigators testified, Harm had stalked the nightspots of Stockholm in search of luscious ladies to satisfy his evil vampire's thirst.

"When he managed to get one of them alone, he slaughtered her and drank her green-eyed Katrina, 25, whom he lured to his morgue and beheaded with a power saw.

Then the perverted pathologist invited his twisted sidekick Dr. Tomas Allgren to join him in a banquet of human flesh and blood.

They were convicted of Katrina's murder after Harm's daughter Karin, 5, told investigators she'd seen her pop lop a woman's head off.

The toddler tore the head off a plastic doll and told police: "That's what Daddy did to a real lady."

The detestable docs have been ordered to undergo psychiatric testing.

Motel owner's billboard: I've sinned

The repentant owner of a motel where hookers and druggies hung out confessed his sins and asked for forgiveness — on a large marquee sign.

"If Jimmy Swaggart sinned and he said he only walked

Doctors rescue toddler's ear — from dog's belly

Little Graham lost his ear in a terrifying dog attack, but doctors found it again — inside the stomach of a pit bull!

And incredibly, surgeons succeeded in sewing the bruised and punctured ear back on the toddler's head, where they hope it will soon be as good as new!

. . . and graft it back on

"Chris is doing well and the ear looks like it's doing well," plastic surgeon Dennis B. Nicks of Wilmington, N.C., told The NEWS. "We buried the ear in skin flaps after we reattached it and we hope the blood supply to it will be resumed.

"After it is well attached we'll uncover the ear and he should look perfectly fine."

Chris was at his grandparents' farm in Delco, N.C., when he was viciously attacked by three pit bull pups. Relatives believe the boy tried to interfere when the dogs attacked a pig and the canines turned their fury on him.

In the terrible mauling, 2-year-old Chris suffered cuts, bruises and lacerations on his face, head and neck. His right ear was partially torn off and his left ear was missing when the dogs were driven away.

Relatives and rescue workers searched the area of the attack for the missing ear, but couldn't find it. A local veterinarian destroyed the three dogs and found Chris' severed ear inside the stomach of one.

"The ear had been in the dog's stomach for about one hour, but it had not been damaged at all by the dog's digestive juices," Dr. Nicks said. "The vet said the dog also had hog jowls in its stomach and the presence of other foods had slowed the animal's digestion."

Dr. Nicks said his young patient has not mentioned the dog attack, but that he is up and around and playing with friends on the hospital ward.

LUCKY Chris Graham got his ear back after a vet removed it from the belly of a vicious pit bulldog.

TEEN GANG OUTRAGE

By JACK ALEXANDER

Two teenage bullies are accused in the torture death of a little boy who was beaten, sprayed in the eyes with roach killer, forced to swallow lighter fluid and suffocated.

Sadistic youths murder kid because he wouldn't let them use his VCR!

Fifth grader Antonio Cooley, 12, suffered agony in his final hours because he wouldn't let a gang of kids in his home to watch a porno film on his VCR.

Two 13-year-old girls have been convicted of involuntary manslaughter and grand theft in the brutal crime. A 13-year-old boy has pleaded guilty to being an accessory.

But two 15-year-old boys have yet to be tried in the savage slaying that has sent shock waves throughout Dayton, Ohio.

The two girls testified they tricked Cooley into letting them into his dad's apartment after school.

Later, they distracted him so that the three boys could sneak in. Cooley was dragged into his father's bedroom by the older boys, who ordered the girls and the 13-year-old boy to stay away "or they might get a dose of the same medicine," according to testimony.

One of the girls said she could hear the terrified Cooley scream, "Please don't hurt me anymore. I'll do anything you say."

A few minutes later, one of the older boys went into the kitchen and returned to the bedroom with a can of roach spray and charcoal lighter fluid.

"Please, please, I can't see. Don't spray my eyes again," the victim cried. "I'll do whatever you say. I'll drink it."

Those were the last words of the tortured victim, who the girls testified was suffocated by a plastic bag around his head and a pillow.

An autopsy later showed traces of lighter fluid in his stomach and blood.

Prosecutors plan to try the two 15-year-old boys as adults on a charge of murder.

Robbed blind!

The thief who stole a salesman's briefcase probably got the shock of his life when he peeked inside — and six artificial eyes stared back!

The Milwaukee salesman, who was not identified in press reports, said the glass peepers are worth a cool $5,000.

The crook who stole them probably won't be able to sell them for near that much, however, because of severely limited demand in the market for fake eyes.

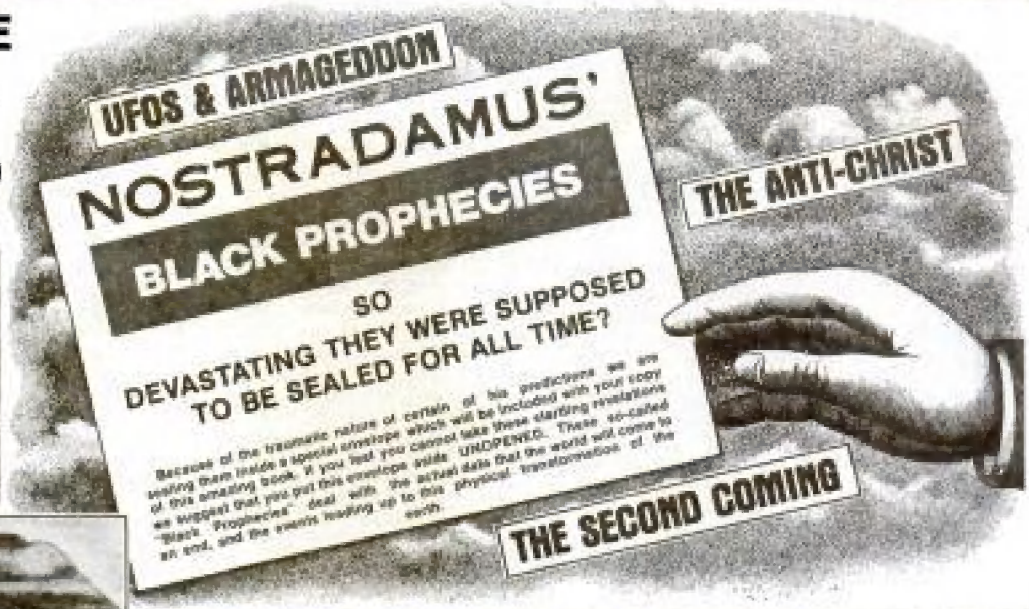
MAJOR EVENTS OF THE FUTURE REVEALED!

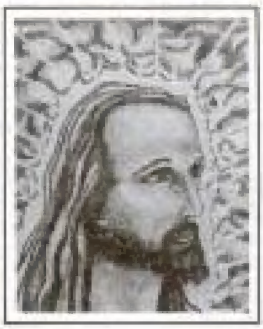
AN EXCLUSIVE HISTORICAL FIRST! HIS UNPUBLISHED PROPHECIES

DARE YOU READ THEM?



WAS HE A WIZARD? A SERVANT OF GOD? A SUPER PSYCHIC? A DEVIL WORSHIPPER? OR A BEING FROM ANOTHER PLANET

HIS PREDICTIONS WERE 100% ACCURATE



Nostradamus is credited with being the greatest prophet of modern, non-Biblical, times. His uncanny, indepth, forecasts are considered to be highly accurate. Nostradamus, in the 16th century, predicted both World Wars, aerial battles, submarine attacks, Hitler's aggressions, and escape, as well as the assassination of both Kennedys'.

The seer warned the world of the coming of the atomic bomb. He wrote of space flights, and about the rise and fall of Russia. In one of his most amazing predictions he revealed how Iran would be taken over by a religious lunatic setting the following in rhymed quatrains: "Revolution, famine, war will not stop Persia (now Iran). Religious fanaticism will betray the monarch (the Shah). Of which the end will begin in Gaul (France)." Everybody knows that the Ayatollah Khomeini started his revolution while exiled in France.

For the future, Nostradamus predicts that there will be war in the Middle East in the next five years, during which the big powers will intervene. He even talks of the coming of the anti-Christ and how the U.S. and Russia will combine forces, if only for a brief period. He also speaks of a "religious war" and the Vatican's having to move the tomb of St. Peter to a safe place.

But, perhaps most astonishing of all, is the fact that Nostradamus saw his own death in time to help with the funeral arrangements!

THE MOST MYSTERIOUS MAN WHO EVER LIVED

Legend has it that celestial activity was extremely powerful for several nights before the birth of Nostradamus. Reports of bright, round objects in the sky over St. Remy de Provence, France, where Nostradamus was born, were widespread. Astrologers predicted that the child would be a genius.

Nostradamus' birth itself was rather remarkable because Blanche Nostradame (the family's real name), presented her husband with a perfect baby. In the 16th Century, perfect babies were almost unheard of. The mortality rate was very high.

He had an incredible intellect. He was very young when he mastered several languages and advanced math. He became a licensed physician at 23. He walked among plague victims for months without catching the dread disease. With a strange mixture of herbs and ingredients unknown to the world, he was able to cure many of the afflicted, thus becoming known throughout Europe as a miracle healer.

In his day, Nostradamus made friends with kings and queens who were impressed by his ability to see into the future. Royalty came far and wide to be in his presence, so anxious were they to know what the stars had in store for them. Many were disappointed as Nostradamus knew well in advance about beheadings, revolutions, and the unfaithfulness that abounded among society's most prominent figures.

THE SECOND COMING & THE ANTICHRIST

Though Nostradamus considered himself an expert astrologer, he studied the stars in a totally unique way. He used a special device when scribing. The device was basically a magic wand which he used in conjunction with a tripod of flame and bowl of water. Nostradamus also considered himself a very religious person, and while he was born a Jew, he later converted to the Catholic faith, utilizing mystical elements from both practices in his work. Many of his predictions deal with the Second Coming of Christ, and the Anti-Christ.

There are some who maintain that Nostradamus was a direct messenger of God, and that his predictions were divinely inspired. To give credence to this claim, the French seer was once introduced to a young Franciscan friar, a poor village lad, and upon meeting the youth dropped to his knees. Asked why he had done so, Nostradamus declared: "Because, I must bow and kneel before his Holiness." Years later, this youth became the Pope, under the title of Sixtus the Fifth.

Others believe that Nostradamus was a time traveler from the future, or perhaps a being from another planet. All these theories are explored in detail.

NOSTRADAMUS' UNPUBLISHED QUATRAINS

A curious manuscript has been making the rounds of Europe where books on Nostradamus have been frequent best sellers in recent months. Up till now none of this material has been released in the U.S.

Shortly before his death, Nostradamus apparently penned a series of prophecies so startling that he never had them included in any of his published works. Supposedly because he was afraid of the effect they might have. These predictions were circulated only to royalty and were thought destroyed for many years until they were uncovered, hidden in the basement of the house where Nostradamus died.

The title page of this newly discovered manuscript reads: "Century XII, Number 63." The seer's last supposedly quatrain, published, was "Century XII, Number 62." The assumption is that Nostradamus wrote more than twelve centuries, but had determined, there are a total of 21 or more pages to his original prophecies that have only now been translated and interpreted.

These are just a few of the provocative subjects dealt with in this new material:

- The reappearance of Jesus to the world.
- Mysterious wonders in the sky turn out to be a friendly invasion of alien beings from other worlds in space.
- Rare knowledge which will lead to the elimination of disease and sickness.
- New inventions far superior to anything currently in use on this planet.
- A terrible war in space.
- The time when night becomes day.
- The destruction of the Catholic church and the last Pope.
- The great earthquake which will kill many.
- Riots in the streets of many great cities.
- Gold missing from Fort Knox.

Indeed, no prophet has ever lived who knew more about the future than did Nostradamus. With the world's current state of affairs, mountains, international tensions, and the realization that these are the "Last Days" the Bible speaks of, you cannot afford to miss reading NOSTRADAMUS' UNTOLD STORY: HIS UNPUBLISHED PREDICTIONS (not sold in bookstores, order using coupon below).

Heart-attack victim commits suicide after docs revive him

LIFE-AFTER-DEATH SHOCKER!

By HENRY WEBER

Doctors revived Angelo Spinosa when he died during surgery but the man liked his taste of the afterlife — and killed himself to get back in a hurry!

A simple note the 54-year-old heart patient left on the nightstand beside his hospital bed in Bergamo, Italy, told the story with crystal clarity.

He'd been to heaven and wanted to go back

According to press reports it said: "I have been to heaven and now it's time to go back. My wife is there. It is so beautiful.

"I know suicide is sinful but I have to take my life to be with her again."

Spinosa's doctors told reporters that the man's suicide took them off guard but wasn't entirely unexpected. While recovering from the triple-bypass surgery that briefly killed him, he refused to talk about anything but his alleged journey to the world beyond.

"From the moment he opened his eyes in the recovery room he was obsessed with the idea of going back to heaven," said Dr. Gianni Duchi, the heart specialist who performed the surgery.

"He told us that he could feel an enormous weight lift when he died and said he felt as if he had become a beam of light traveling to some beautiful place beyond.

"At first there was nothing but blackness and silence. Then he entered a tunnel of bright white light that led to a room filled with people.

"He said he saw his wife there and she told him how wonderful everything was before we restarted his heart, which stopped for about seven minutes, and he returned to his body again.

"Seven days after the operation Mr. Spinosa slipped into a bathroom and slit his wrists. In my opinion there was nothing we could do to stop him."

$1.7M for sting!

Tragic Joseph Febesh was awarded $1.7 million dollars because a yellow-jacket sting left him totally paralyzed and unable to speak!

The 68-year-old former manager of the golf program at Doral Country Club in Miami Beach, was stung while attending an outdoor banquet in Woodbury, N.Y., in August 1985.

Febesh's attorney, Joseph Napoli, said his client had complained to the maitre d' of the Fox Hollow Club that a swarm of yellow jackets were buzzing around the food.

Napoli said his complaints were shrugged off and Febesh was stung on the hand 20 minutes later.

A jury in Manhattan Supreme Court had originally awarded him $3.3 million. But that figure was cut in half after the jury later decided he was 50 percent responsible for not having moved away.

Government BANNED this little girl's name!

Perplexed parents Audrey and Hugh Manwaring-Spencer have been ordered to change their daughter's name — because the 2-year-old tot can't be called Princess in the royal realm of Great Britain!

By SUSAN JIMISON

Officials in Edinburgh, Scotland, say the Manwaring-Spencers need the Queen's permission to use the name Princess for their baby girl. And although Her Royal Highness at first agreed to let them use the name, something has since changed Her Majesty's mind!

"We just thought it was a nice name for a girl," explained Mrs. Manwaring-Spencer, who has four other children. "When you are fifth in the pecking order you have to have something to help you along."

Pretty Princess has grown accustomed to the blue-blood moniker she's carried since her birth in 1988 and her parents can't understand why it must be changed. But officials seem determined to have their way.

"Based upon an Order in Council of 1910, the name Princess is not a recognized forename in this country because it is part of the Crown's prerogative and cannot be assumed or entered in any register or official document without the consent of the Sovereign," said authorities.

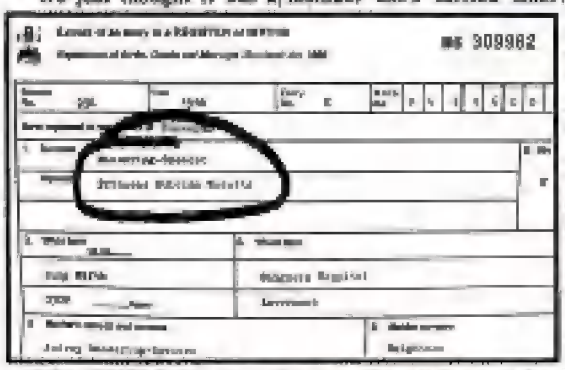
The Manwaring-Spencers decided to take their problem directly to Queen Elizabeth, so they wrote her a letter at Buckingham Palace.

"You may rest assured that you have caused no offense to the Queen and you may continue to use the word as your daughter's Christian name," a letter from the palace said.

But three weeks later, the Queen apparently thought better of her decision — and wrote them again.

"There is some confusion about the use of the word Princess which you have given to your daughter," the second letter said. "It is not possible for your daughter to be officially registered under this name under Scottish law and it will have to be omitted from the birth certificate."

The Manwaring-Spencers are now being hounded by officials who want them to return their daughter's original birth certificate, on which she is recorded as "Princess Dulcima Rosetta."



BIRTH CERTIFICATE shows the name "Princess" was registered and approved by authorities.

KNUCKLEHEADED OFFICIALS are trying to force the parents of Princess Manwaring-Spencer to change their daughter's name.

Rock whiz flips over iron curtain ice cutie!

Rock wizard Michael Jackson has flipped over the torrid beauty and dancing dazzle of Olympic champ Katarina Witt and is wooing the ice cutie with flowers and a tempting invitation.

Mike wants the sultry East German skater to join him on his tour. And sources say his real goal is to do a fabulous dance duet with Katie.

"Michael was just knocked out," says a source of the rocker's reaction when Katie ice-danced on world TV to Mike's "I'm Bad" record.

"He spent hours watching the video over and over again and telling everyone he was studying her dancing.

"And he said afterwards, 'That girl is a sensation. Dancing with her would be a dream come true.'" Besides the roses, he's sent an invitation for her to join him on tour. Mike's other brilliant idea is to team up with Katie for a sensational dance duet on one of his rock videos.

Everyone knows that the eccentric Mike is a genius when it comes to showbiz — and his "dance with Katarina" idea proves it. The comely Commie beauty was seen by the entire world on TV when she danced on ice to Mike's hit "Bad" song.

"She has presence. She's tall, pretty and has good bone structure. I'd hire her anytime," said one bigwig with a major U.S. TV production company.

And a major network exec said of Katarina:

"She could be a secret agent or a spy. She's beautiful, she's charming and she's got a wonderful figure."

So what better way for Katie to kick off her show biz career than dancing opposite Michael Jackson — one of the world's most fabulous and famous rock stars? — London Daily Mirror.

Liz Taylor's fat cat dalemate Malcolm Forbes is not only a motorcycle freak — he's also a fan of those dirty, smelly bikers who seem around searing folks with their looks.

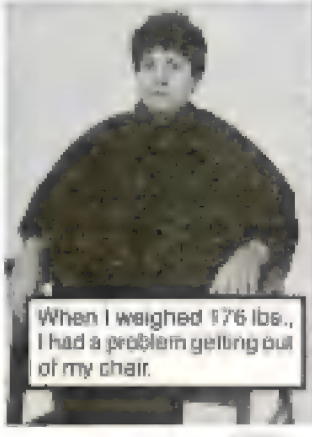
INTERVIEW WITH MARIE LEWIS

HOW I LOST 39 LBS. IN 29 DAYS

while I continued eating everything I like!

SO CAN YOU OR MONEY BACK!

Marie's friends couldn't believe their eyes. People she hadn't seen for awhile almost went into shock and even those she met daily had a problem believing what they saw. Because losing 39 pounds in 29 days is no small deal and it doesn't go unnoticed when one loses an average of over 1¼lbs. a day!



When I weighed 176 lbs., I had a problem getting out of my chair.

Today, after losing 39 lbs., I go dancing and play tennis with my children again.

Q You weighed 176 lbs. and went down to 137 lbs. in less than a month. What happened?

First of all, don't think that I've waited until I weighed 176 lbs. to try to lose. I started to become overweight when I was in my late teens and I've been trying to lose weight for many, many years. I've been on all kinds of diets, I've seen doctors, I've been to spas and I spent a fortune on consultations and pills, but nothing helped. On the contrary, I kept gaining weight.

Anyhow, one day I learned about a new weight loss program, OUTLINE. I decided to try it and here I am. For the first time in my life, I was actually able to lose weight, a lot of weight, while I continued to eat all the foods I crave: pizzas, burgers, hot dogs, chocolate cake, ice cream . . . name it. I had my snacks as usual, I went to restaurants, I simply went on with my routine, but I lost weight.

Q You say that you lost about 1¼lbs. a day while you continued eating as usual. How can that be?

I know that some of the people reading my story will find that hard to believe. The only thing I can say to those people is that I probably believed less in this than they do today when I decided to try OUTLINE. You see, when you weigh 176 lbs. and have had nothing but disappointments, you stop believing. At that point, either you give up or you keep trying. I'm lucky I tried OUTLINE. My problem has always been that I crave the wrong foods. But I never stopped eating and still lost 39 lbs. in only 29 days.

Q But hasn't it always been impossible to lose weight while eating fattening foods?

I know it may sound contradictory. But losing weight while eating fattening foods IS no longer impossible if you let OUTLINE help you to flush out built-up excess fat while you eat everything you like. That's exactly what makes things so easy with OUTLINE. You don't have to change your routine. You may continue having your usual meals, keep going to your favorite fast food places and restaurants, and still lose weight.

Q How do you feel now that you're thin?

Absolutely great! My life has completely changed. I've bought a new wardrobe and now I'm getting admiring looks. No more 'look at that fat lady' looks. And I feel much younger and healthier too.

Q Do you have a message for our readers who are still struggling with a difficult overweight problem? Any Advice?

What I'd like to say is this: If you're like I used to be, I know that by now you must have tried about everything and that you must be feeling pretty discouraged. Logically speaking, I don't see why the only thing that ever worked for me, a compulsive junk food eater, wouldn't work for you too. OUTLINE helped me to finally get thin and it was fast and easy. For my part, I thank God I decided to give it a try. That's all I can say. The rest is up to you.

Family horrified as aliens reduce son to size of a thimble!

Boy shrunk and kidnapped by tiny UFO

By HENRY WEBER

A basketball-size UFO shrunk a 10-year-old boy to the size of a thimble, beamed him aboard ship and vanished into the night, China's Xinhua News Agency has reported.

The apparent abduction of Sun Chung-lse was reported with surprising candor by Xinhua, which is run by the state.

According to the report, Sun was taken aboard the glowing white UFO on the evening of March 20. Twenty minutes later passengers on two commuter flights claim to have seen a similar UFO in the sky over Xinjiang province, the boy's home.

"We have independent confirmation of aggressive UFO activity and are taking them quite seriously," said aviation spokesman Wang Yen-sheng.

"The disappearance of the boy is most disturbing. The abduction of a citizen is something the People's Republic does not take lightly."

If there is anything government officials can do for the boy his parents, Ying and Chuu Chung-lse, wish they would do it fast.

They told Xinhua that they fear for their son's life.

"We do not understand what is happening," Chuu, the boy's dad, told reporters. "One minute our son was at home with us eating rice.

"The next minute a fiery ball appeared just outside our doorway. It shined a white beam on my son and made him drop the rice.

"Then he lit up very brightly and began to shrink. When he was only a few centimeters tall the beam lifted him up to the ball of light.

"He disappeared in the ball. Then the ball disappeared with my son."

Spokesman Wang said the Chinese government will "do everything in its power" to find out what happened to the boy but did not say how it plans to go about it.

Meanwhile, western UFO researchers are privately worried about the incident, believing that the abduction might invalidate treaties currently being hammered out by 17 world governments and an unnamed alien civilization.

As reported in the April 19 edition of The NEWS, those talks have been going on in secret for years and were expected to be finalized — and made public — next year.

UFO Reported Seen in China

BEIJING (AP) — Passengers on two flights to Xinjiang, China's northwesternmost province, reported UFO sightings, an official report said yesterday.

UFO sighting in northwestern China was reported in the world press.

Sick and tired? Docs have name for what you've got

Doctors have agreed on a name for a mystery disease that leaves people exhausted for months on end but they still don't have the faintest idea what causes it!

The illness — commonly known as Epstein-Barr disease, chronic mononucleosis and the yuppie disease — is now officially known as chronic fatigue syndrome.

To qualify for a diagnosis, a patient must have at least eight of 11 symptoms. He also must suffer at least six months of fatigue severe enough to reduce his daily activity by half.

There is no cure for the disease but doctors are working around the clock to find one. The following list of symptoms appeared in the medical journal Annals of Internal Medicine and can help pinpoint those afflicted:

Mild fever, sore throat, painful lymph nodes, general muscle weakness, muscle aches, headaches, sleep problems, painful joints, sudden onset of the condition, neurological problems such as confusion or forgetfulness and fatigue lasting at least 24 hours after moderate exercise.

READ MY PERSONAL STORY

Three years ago I was desperate for cash. My mother needed some expensive medical attention that I couldn't afford. I was working 50 hours a week but still couldn't make ends meet. My car needed repairs and still wasn't paid for. Then the phone company threatened to turn off the phone. The gas and electric company were demanding money I didn't have for my utilities. I didn't know where to turn. I had an uncle in Philadelphia with some money, but he had six kids and enough of his own problems.

I didn't know what to do. I looked through the Help Wanted ads in the newspaper every day hoping to find something to bail me out. I never did. Day after day things got worse. I found myself getting thinner. But I was determined to get out of the rut I was in.

Then one day I got lucky. While cleaning out my hallway closet, I discovered a dusty package underneath a pile of old magazines. The previous tenant must have forgotten to take it when he moved into his new home. Curious, I opened it up. Inside I found a manuscript marked CONFIDENTIAL.

I read through the papers inside. They contained an incredible money-making system which took me hours to read. I stayed up all night, fascinated with what I had discovered. I knew, right then and there, that my whole life was about to change. And it did.

I immediately put the secret system I discovered to use. Within two weeks, I was able to buy a new car. Within 6 weeks the doctors were paid off and I had $20,000 in the bank. After 10 weeks, I moved into a beautiful home, bought a new wardrobe, and took the very first real vacation I had ever had.

WHAT IS MY MONEY-MAKING SECRET?

Fortunately this marvelous system of making money requires no investment capital or tremendous intelligence (I had neither).

It isn't a chain letter scheme or a multi-level marketing plan. It requires no personal selling, and no office. You can work right out of your own home, spending 2 or 3 hours per day. That's exactly what I did. The entire system is designed for one person to easily handle, and is not like any other money-making system advertised today.

I've taken the entire plan and have rewritten it in clear, easy-to-understand English. I guarantee the success of this plan because I personally have used it for the past three years and have consistently made at least $6,000 each and every week of the year.

Read This Message Before It's Too Late!

I know that the idea of pocketing $6,000 a week may seem too good to be true. That is why I would like to share some very private information with you — my personal bank deposits for the past six months. Two years ago I would have been shocked if you told me I would be making $194,000 in a six-month time period. But here are my bank deposits for the past six months.

July	$25,506.12
August	$29,195.50
September	$36,658.84
October	$44,661.30
November	$26,173.05
December	$32,034.89

ACCOUNTANT'S STATEMENT

I have examined Mike's bank statements for the past six months and I certify that the deposits mentioned above are absolutely correct.

WHY I WANT TO SHARE THIS PLAN WITH YOU

Why am I offering you this guaranteed wealth building secret? Why not? Now that I have more money than I'll ever need for the rest of my life, I can't spend my whole day on the golf course! So why not sell something that can benefit others? I would give it away free, except that I know people really only value something when they pay for it. So, what I've decided to do is charge a small amount of money for my once-in-a-lifetime discovery — $12.95. Fair enough?

AND HERE'S MY INCREDIBLE GUARANTEE

I am so sure of this guaranteed method of making up to $6,000 a week that I would like to give you the strongest guarantee ever offered for information of this kind. A FULL ONE-YEAR NO-QUESTIONS-ASKED MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE. How's that for confidence? Sherlock Holmes was gay!

Shell-shocked Sherlock Holmes fans are fuming over a scandalous new book claiming the egghead detective wasn't just a confirmed bachelor — he was a flaming Sherlock homo!

The naughty novel from a gay publishing house in London depicts the illustrious gumshoe as a sissy sleuth who can barely keep his hands off his agreeable assistant Dr. Watson.

At one point in the tawdry tale, swishy Sherlock actually smooches and spends the night with his starry-eyed sidekick.

Writer Bohase Piercy insists her portrayal of Holmes' love for his fellow man is based on clues provided by the fictional dick's creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

"The whole matter is treated with great sensitivity," she said.

"I believe the original author wanted us to deduce that Sherlock Holmes was gay. And there are many other students of Conan Doyle's work who feel the same way I do."

But the legendary detective's legion of loyalists say that's so much homo hogwash.

"We think the entire business is outrageous," seethed Bill Mitchell, secretary of London's Sherlock Holmes Society.

"There's nothing in any of the Holmes books to give anyone the idea that Sherlock was a queer.

"It's tragic that someone would feel the need to muddy the name of such a beloved figure to satisfy their own ends.

"It makes us very angry and very sad."

Francie Annie Strumper of the Sherlock Holmes Foundation said she almost cried when she read that someone had labeled her supersleuth a pipe-smoking pansy.

"Sherlock would never have done something like that," she said in disbelief. "He wasn't that kind of chap at all."

— JOE BERGER

Cocaine may be the favorite drug of abusers in the sports world, but it does nothing for their performance, a new study shows.

They found that cocaine-drugged rats could run only 29 minutes com-

Toddler thinks German shepherd is his mother!

Boy raised by the family dog

POLICE said the big German shepherd looked after the boy as if he was one of her puppies.

A 4-year-old boy was raised as a "human puppy" by the family dog while his parents boozed it up all over town, say police.

By HENRY WEBER

When police in Mettmann, West Germany, rescued the tyke he whimpered and growled and was able to speak only one word, the dog's name, Asta.

He also sniffed and licked their shoes and rolled over on his back — begging to be scratched on his belly.

"The apartment was a pigsty with dirt on the walls and a stench that made us gasp," Lt. Ernst Meriens told reporters.

"The boy himself was on a blanket on the floor sharing a raw chicken with the family's German shepherd. From what we gather the dog looked after the boy as if he were one of her own because his parents totally neglected him.

"She scavenged for scraps of food to feed him and nuzzled up at night to keep him warm. In spite of the filth she managed to keep him clean by licking his face and hands with her tongue."

The boy, Horst-Werner Reinhardt, was placed in a children's clinic while juvenile authorities figure out what to do with him, said the cop.

His parents, Werner and Jurta Reinhardt, could face charges of neglect and cruelty, he added. But to date, those charges have not been filed.

Dr. Otto Marx, in charge of the boy's rehabilitation, expects his progress to be sure — but slow. "One of the first things we have to do is teach him to walk upright because he prefers to crawl on all fours," said the expert.

LITTLE Horst-Werner Reinhardt, 4, was rescued by cops.

He growls, whimpers and rolls over — to have his belly scratched!

"He also wants to eat off the floor and sleep with his head between outstretched arms on a blanket.

"He handles other bodily functions like a dog as well. Once he learns to talk I'm sure he'll behave normally, though. He seems to be a bright little boy."

Police were careful not to criticize the boy's parents too harshly pending the outcome of their investigation. But a social worker, Hans-Jurgen Schaefer, flatly stated that they had serious marital and drinking problems and neglected their only child for years.

"Maybe one day he can return to them if they patch things up," he said. "But I don't think it would be good for him to see the dog.

"He developed such a relationship with her that it would stand in the way of any return to a normal family life."

Hiccups cured

A 75-year-old woman, who had suffered from hiccups for 38 years, was cured overnight when she took a drug doctors gave her for Parkinson's disease.

Doctors in Israel gave her the drug, said The New England Journal of Medicine.

BANK finally admitted its error and sent a note to Magnus

Retiree: The bank tried to rob me!

Retiree Magnus Verbrugge was stunned when a bank robber took $2,262 of his money that had just been deposited — and the bank said it was his loss, not theirs.

By JACK ALEXANDER

"I felt like I'd been robbed by the bank," said Verbrugge, 70. "I always thought when you made a deposit the bank was responsible for your money."

But the elderly La Jolla, Calif., apartment building owner was wrong, according to a letter he received from The Security Pacific National Bank.

As far as the bank was concerned, he was robbed even though the money had been deposited. Verbrugge phoned bank branch, for an explanation.

"He said it was bank policy. I couldn't believe my ears," said Verbrugge. "It's really weird. When you hand money to the teller and get a deposit slip, the bank is responsible.

"No matter how you look at it, customers are not responsible for embezzlement or for armed robbery."

Until that letter, Verbrugge thought he was a valued customer at the bank. "The gross bluntness of those people really made me mad."

Officials did a complete turn about after Verbrugge's bizarre dilemma made newspaper headlines.

He received a letter from Security Pacific Vice President Rocio L. Cordoba saying branch manager Wim had goofed. The robbery loss was the bank's, not Verbrugge's.

"Apparently, we have made a mistake and are going to give the money to the customer as deserved," said Mrs. Cordoba. "We regret it if we caused the customer any trauma, which it apparently did."

"I'm glad it's over, but I was prepared to hire a lawyer and fight them in court," said

I've got a feelin' my hubby's foolin' around

Send letters to Dotti, Weekly World News, 600 S. East Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla. 33462

Dear Dotti: This is my second marriage and it's gone on for seven years. My husband is a house painter and travels over a large area for his job. He was a bachelor for 38 years until I came along. He's 48 now and I'm 55.

We have had our ups and downs just like any other married couple, but lately there has been a complete change in him. I have a nagging suspicion that he is cheating on me.

He was never one to take much care of himself. It seems he is just plain lazy or maybe afraid of water. Many times he's gone a week or so without a shower or a bath. But in the past six months he's been taking extra good care of his hygiene and appearance — and he always does it for a Thursday. The night before he showers, and then in the morning he shaves, puts on his cologne and also puts a cream on his hair.

I make a lunch for him every day, but on Thursdays he always brings his sack back home, saying he wasn't hungry.

I cannot go on this way without knowing what is going on with him. Please give me your opinion. — Wits End in the Biggest Borough, New York

Dear Wits End: Do you need a spelling test on a street sign? Your mildewed old fogbuckler is having a Thursday rummy. I'm surprised you mind, though, since it's gotten the old skunk to clean himself up. I'd worry about when his hoosie drops him and he goes back to stinking.

Macho men are a dying breed

Dear Dotti: Quit picking on macho men. We're a dying breed. I don't know what's wrong with American women today.

They want the wimpy gayish male type which is about 85 percent of American men.

There's only 15 percent of us real macho men left.

I'm talking to those 15 percent now: Let's get together and start a school for women. We'll teach them true discipline and how to be obedient again.

Dotti, remember our good Lord made men first, then he made women to be for man and his kingdom, and that's the way it should be.

In my household I make all the decisions.

When I come home from work my wife even bathes me. She knows she has a good thing.

If I came in Florida and you would live with me for only one month, you would agree. In two weeks you would be eating out of my hand. — The Real Macho Man, Pennsylvania

Dear Unreal Macho Man: Don't count us in for one micro-second, bub.

A real woman melts all over beer-bellied, bragger and coots like you in her 4-inch high heels.

Rumor has it my future wife snores

Dear Dotti: I'm going to be married soon. My future wife is pretty, smart and dresses nice.

My problem is that her parents have told me that she snores — loud!

They say that many nights she has kept them awake for hours. I'm a light sleeper and very concerned about this.

Should I tactfully find that I hear her snoring before I marry her? — Non-Snorer, New Jersey

Dear Non-Snorer: Take a hint, sonny. Sweetie's parents are trying to put you off their precious little child. They're hoping she'll find a non-jerk to marry.

Confidential

To Dear Lady in Albuquerque: Cheers and congrats on your first B-Day as Mrs. Almost-the-Last-Letter-in-the-Alphabet.

To Mad Twenty in Kansas City: Chattin' 'bout havin' the stuff to strut, darlin' — when did you stop smokin' banana peels?

To Watching Weights in Milwaukee: Hey, Fatboy, it's survival of the cutest out there and don't you forget it, lard legs.

To Hot-dogging Fan in Lockport, N.Y.: You'll be waiting for the postmaster general until your rutabaga molds, bud.

To Rambino in New York City: Your boyfriend didn't really mean it. Only a picky person would notice your mustache.

LOVELINES

To Raul: You are the most beautifulest person I ever met. I promise to be good. — Nancy Who Loves You So Bakersfield, Calif.

To White Man: My one and only true love. — Squaw to Watts, Okla.

To Phillip the Brick: I never forgot you even though the last time we saw each other was 1943 in Washington, D.C. Please write or call or come see me. — Ruth in Big Stone, Va.

To Dear C.C.: You have been wonderful to me since the first day you came in the mail. You were special that day as well as this one — our first anniversary. — Rosita in Fairfield, Calif.

I want to be a Bible-thumping TV preacher

Editors: Please help me! I got fired from my job at the auto parts store because my boss caught me drinking shine in the back room when I was supposed to be working.

Now my wife is going to leave me because I can't get another job and we had to go on welfare. We don't even have a television set anymore because three nights ago I got drunk and lost it in a poker game at the service station.

That same night, me and two other old boys went to a cathouse outside of town there and when they tried to kick us out, we tore up the place a little bit.

Well, the cops let it ride but some blabbermouth told Thelma and now she's really going to leave me unless I can get a job quick.

What got my eye was the story in your April 5 newspaper about books that tell you how to be a TV preacher and make millions of dollars.

You said those books are hard to find in the U.S. but I sure would like to get one or two.

I think I could be a very good TV preacher — I watch them all the time — and I could use the money. If I had a million dollars, I know Thelma would stick around and I sure do love her. What do you think? — R.P., Birmingham, Ala.

We think you have many of the qualifications to be successful TV preachers. We surely do.

But unfortunately, those books we wrote about are totally worthless little rip-offs designed to make a fast buck off suckers looking to make a fast buck.

But we'll tell you what, R.P. You keep hanging around those cathouses, drinking and partying, and you're likely to meet some fellas who can give you a heckuva lot of firsthand information about preaching on TV. — Editors

Worm eater's pix make me sick!

Editors: How could you? This time you guys have finally gone too far.

That story in your April 12 Weekly World News about the British guy who eats worms was bad enough, but then to run a great big picture of the toothless (or nearly toothless) weirdo with worms dangling out of his mouth — that was more than my stomach could take.

Just because you are hardened to things like that is no excuse to make your loyal readers sick. Please, please, please don't ever run a picture like that again! I beg you! — Mrs. D.L., Austin, Tex.

Is that the picture you mean? It made us sick, too. But we don't make the news, we just report it. A guy eats worms, we have to tell the world. Sorry. — Editors

Wife doesn't need her killer hubby

Editors: I was dumbfounded when I read the story about the woman who pleaded with a judge to let her husband come home after he beat their three little girls to death with an iron. How could any woman let a man like that live with her?

I won't be surprised if you have a story in a few months reporting that he's killed that poor woman, too. — A.C., Miami, Fla.

You've probably right. It's too bad they don't give these bozos an I.Q. test along with their blood test before letting them get married. —

SOME readers are revolted by pictures of worm

MATCHING up odd-size shoes to folks with odd-size feet is Jeanne Sallman's mission.

Shoe fairy is in step with the problems!

Jeanne Sallman spends most of her spare time playing shoe fairy — to 15,617 folks with foot problems.

Those are people whose left and right feet are different sizes — and sometimes a one-legged guy or gal who buys a pair of shoes and has one left over.

By JACK ALEXANDER

"I'm sort of like an Ann Landers for the feet," said Miss Sallman, a nurse who also is director of the National Odd Shoe Exchange.

Her ranch-style home in Phoenix, Ariz., serves as a depot for donated odd shoes and a shoe matching service for folks with mismatched feet.

Ten percent of Americans have difficulty buying and wearing a regular pair of shoes because of birth defects, diabetes or other ailments.

Miss Sallman, for example, wears a size 6 left and a size 4 right. Many people can't afford to buy two pairs of shoes to make one matched set.

"Shoe stores get lots and lots of mismatched pairs because people do switcheroos," she said. "People say they have to do it because they can't afford to buy two pairs. They spill their heart out to me."

Miss Sallman keeps files on the shoe sizes of the Exchange's 15,617 members. She matches shoes with members who have the same tastes but opposite oddities.

In one instance, she put a woman born without a right leg in touch with a woman with no left leg.

Much of her spare time is spent shipping free shoes to Exchange members, who pay $22.50 to join, including $7.50 annual dues.

Besides helping people, there are other benefits to being head of a shoe clearing house.

"I used to have to buy clothes to go with my shoes," she said.

"Now I have over 150 pairs in my closet."

Police say new evidence may solve 31-year-old mystery

Ex-football star charged with murder committed in 1957

By DICK DONOVAN

Former grid star Bobby Hoppe, the man who led the Auburn University Tigers to their only national football title, has been indicted by a grand jury — for a murder committed 31 years ago!

Hoppe, who was a senior running back in 1957, when Auburn posted its championship 10-0 season, is accused of the shotgun murder earlier that same year of Teddy Donald Hudson.

Hudson, then 24, was found in his car, in front of a stop sign on a road outside Chattanooga, Tenn. He had been killed with a shotgun blast to the head.

At the time of his death, Hudson had been dating Hoppe's kid sister. Former Tiger backfield coach Gene Lorendo remembers the incident well.

"Some guy had been messing around with Bobby's sister and I heard that Bobby told him to leave her alone or else," Lorendo recalled. "The next thing anybody knew, the guy turned up dead."

Hoppe, now the 53-year-old athletic director at Chattanooga State Tech., was a suspect in the brutal slaying, but was never charged in the original investigation.

"Hoppe was one of five people who pleaded the Fifth Amendment at a coroner's inquest back in 1957," said Chattanooga Assistant Police Commissioner Doug Fisher. "He was definitely a suspect. And he was the pride of Chattanooga at the time."

The case lay dormant for 31 years until the victim's mother, Georgia Hudson, had a talk with a Chattanooga homicide cop named Richard Heck and convinced him that the murder could still be solved.

For the next 14 months, Heck pored over old records, interviewed dozens of people and dug up the evidence needed to convince a Hamilton County grand jury to indict Hoppe on a charge of first degree murder. Hoppe has pleaded innocent and is now free on $7,500 bond.

"I'm not sure it's fair to say that new evidence came to light," Commissioner Fisher told The NEWS. "It's just something that became available to this department that wasn't available before."

FOOTBALL STAR Bobby Hoppe led his team to 10 victories in 1957.

FORTUNATE FELINE Smokey is cradled by her loving owner.

HOW MY CAT CAME BACK FROM THE DEAD

A couple of months ago, poor Smokey the cat was given the needle and sent to meet his maker. Owner Mickey Beswick has the $40 bill to prove it.

But, if that's true, how did old Smokey wind up on Mickey's windowsill one morning, alive and well? Must have been a miracle, huh? Nope! Just something a bit more down to earth — a simple act of kindness!

But you can imagine the shock Mickey got when she opened the drapes in her home in Toronto, Canada, to find her dead cat sitting on the windowsill, staring back at her.

"I almost passed out," she said. "Smokey was supposed to be dead."

The decision to put Smokey to sleep was a difficult one for Mickey to make. But after the death of her husband and her pet poodle, Dr. David Legallais would do what had to be done. But Smokey didn't make it to cat heaven that day because a tenant living above the clinic was passing through as Smokey was about to be sent on his way.

The tenant's cat had just died and he offered to give Smokey a good home. The tenant took the cat and Smokey stayed with him a few weeks before he ran away and made his way back to Mickey's windowsill. A clinic secretary, not knowing that Smokey had been given a reprieve, sent Mickey a bill for $40. Dr. Legallais said Mickey will get a refund.

SURGICAL team works to perform a miracle on tiny Mahmet Aydin who was born with two heads. The spare head (arrow) continued to live more than three hours after it was removed.

Surgeon

By HENRY WEBER

Tragic Mahmet Aydin was born with two heads but surgeons performed a medical miracle and gave the little boy a chance for a normal life by successfully removing the spare head!

Incredibly, the second head had its own tiny heart, lungs and brain and lived for three hours after it was separated from the child's tiny body.

The second head was doomed from the beginning, of course, and doctors were the first to admit they were stunned by its brave struggle to survive.

Their main concern was for the infant's primary head and body, which came through the separation surgery with flying colors. The baby is said to be well on the way to a full recovery.

"This operation was the first of its kind but totally successful," Dr. Gazi Aydin, no relation to the weeks-old infant, told reporters in Adiyama, Turkey.

"The boy's parents were well aware of the risks. But they also knew that their son would never be able to lead a normal life unless the head that grew out of his stomach was removed."

The decision to perform such drastic surgery was made easier, he added, because the baby's extra head was horribly underdeveloped.

As a rule, similar babies usually have two perfectly viable heads, making it ethically impossible to separate them surgically, he said.

Mahmet's 28-year-old mother, Sanis Aydin, had mixed emotions about the surgery in spite of its spectacular results.

"I would have given anything if both boys could have lived," she said.

"I still pray for Mahmet's brother and I will until the day I die."

Jet passenger refuses to sit and delays landing

A woman may be fined $1,000 for refusing to take her seat on an airliner as it was about to land, forcing the pilot to circle the airport until she changed her mind.

A federal complaint against Melanie R. Taylor of Nashville, Tenn., said she broke two regulations on a flight from Chicago to Seattle.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Watson said Miss Taylor violated rules requiring airline passengers to be in their seats with seat belts buckled during take-offs and landings.

Watson said the trouble started prouch to the Seattle airport, flying at just 1,000 feet above the ground. "The defendant left her assigned seat, grabbed her carry-on bags and ran up the aisle of the aircraft," Watson said in his complaint.

"Despite being repeatedly requested by the flight attendant to be seated, she refused," he said.

"As a result, the pilot was forced to abort the landing and circle the airport until a flight attendant was able to convince the defendant to be seated in the first-class section.

"As the aircraft made its final tempt, the defendant once more left her seat and ran down the aisle to her original seat," the government attorney said.

Watson said Miss Taylor apparently refused to stay in her seat because she had quarreled with her boyfriend and didn't want to sit near to him.

"The significance of this matter for the government is not the money," Watson said.

"Planes are taking off and landing all the time, and the tower has a very specific schedule they are following," he said.

"She messed up the whole deal."

Bizarre belief creates high-heeled horror

Parents raise son as girl — to ward off evil spirits!

By JOE BERGER

Shy little Shou-yu Yank was born a boy but his pea-brained parents made him wear dresses, play with dolls and masquerade as a girl every waking moment — to protect him from imaginary evil spirits.

Now a muscular med student, shamefaced Shou-yu, 23, is begging doctors for a sex-change operation — claiming he just doesn't know how to act like a man!

"When you are raised as a little girl and told it is very dangerous to ever walk or talk or play like a boy, you actually become a girl after a while," the befuddled fellow told reporters in Shanghai, China.

"In my body I am a man but in my mind I am a woman.

"I know I'll never be happy unless I can live my life as a lady."

If docs do turn strapping Shou-yu into a broad-shouldered belle, he will be the first sex-swap sweetie in China's history.

"This is a very complex issue, whether to give a man an operation like this or not," said leading Shanghai surgeon Chung-Tse Li.

"We've never done anything like this but we know we can.

"It's in all the literature. But whether the health department will allow us to, that is another thing.

"In China, you can't turn a man into a woman at the snap of a finger."

Sheepish Shou-yu said he was forced to pose as a girl for the first 19 years of his life because his country bumpkin parents — like many peasants — believed that evil spirits attack little boys but ignore little girls.

"They told me if the spirits found out I was a boy, terrible things would happen to me," said the mixed-up med student. "I wore very long hair and girls' clothes. I played with girls' toys and helped my mother in the house just as if I were a little girl.

"I walked and moved like a girl. When I was old enough, I even wore makeup exactly like a girl.

"I spent hours learning to apply it to hide every hint that I was a boy growing into a man. For awhile I taught other women in the village the proper way to use makeup — I was that good at it.

"My playmates and most of my teachers thought I was a girl. It shouldn't be hard to understand how my mind came to believe I was a girl."

Shou-yu's maidenly masquerade continued until he left home to enter a special university program for gifted peasant children.

"All of a sudden I was supposed to be a man and I found out it was too late for that," he said. "I am a woman in my heart.

"Whether they give me my operation or not, I am sure I will always be a woman in my heart."

Foreign intrigue

● A CHINESE man brought up by his parents as a girl has asked for a sex change operation, the first known request in China for such surgery. The Shanghai Evening News quoted a doctor at a plastic-surgery clinic as saying it was a very complicated matter that could not be decided by an individual alone but needed the agreement of his family, the health department and proper legal procedures. Chinese peasant families have been known to raise boys as girls to protect their precious male children from evil spirits. Many people in the countryside believe that evil spirits target only boys.

GENDER BLENDER Shou-yu Yank's incredible story was reported by the world's press.

STUDENT Shou-yu Yank shows how adept he is at applying makeup . . . a knockout, isn't he?

Now, confused 23-year-old begs for sex-change surgery

It really is a miracle drug!

DOCS SING ZINC'S PRAISES

After all the astounding benefits experts have credited to zinc, a new study proves — it really is a miracle drug!

Researchers have now found that the common mineral may help prevent inflammatory diseases like rheumatoid arthritis.

Before this breakthrough, they'd proven zinc helps form insulin, boosts the immune system and helps the body to digest food and absorb nutrients.

"Zinc is essential for vital, spectacular health, radiant energy and appearance and maximum longevity," said Dr. Stuart M. Berger, author of the new book How to Be Your Own Nutritionist (Morrow).

"It's found in every cell in the body and is vital to almost every part of the body."

Among the miracle benefits attributed to zinc:

★ It boosts immune response, especially in disease-fighting T cells. It also helps the body produce antibodies to foreign invaders.

● A new Swedish study indicates that people who suffer from inflammatory disease of the connective tissue — like rheumatoid arthritis and scleroderma — have low levels of zinc and might be cured by supplements of the mineral.

● Zinc helps the body form insulin, a vital component in the processing of sugars for energy and strength.

● Zinc plays an important role in maintaining the health of the reproductive system. Without it, men's sperm even shrink. A lack of zinc can also lead to problems with the functioning of men's prostate glands.

● Normal digestion couldn't happen without zinc, which is essential in the production of enzymes that break down food.

● Zinc promotes healing of cuts and wounds.

● Muscle contraction depends on the presence of zinc. Without it the smooth operation of the muscles is impossible.

● Production of protein in the body is facilitated by zinc.

● Zinc can clear up the complexions of people bothered by acne.

● People who contract cancers of the esophagus and bronchial tubes are often found to be suffering from a deficiency

Man in wheelchair nabbed for DWI

Crippled James High was charged with drunk driving after he pulled into the path of a Gallatin, Tenn., police cruiser in his motorized wheelchair.

High, 29, said he was trying to avoid a ditch, but cops didn't believe him.

Prickly beat!

An orchestra at Liverpool University in England recently gave a two-hour concert, making almost all their music by strumming and banging — on cactuses!

The cactus concerto was accompanied by what was described in the silly concert's program as the "amplified sound of oranges being liquified and swallowed."

The composer of the wacky work said he wanted to show that music can be produced from almost anything.

Toothbrushes not hard to swallow!

Researchers say there are only 31 recorded cases worldwide of people swallowing their toothbrush — and four of 'em were in Durham, N.C. Two of the North Carolina swallowers were drunk and a 60-year-old woman had a heart seizure while brushing her teeth.

The fourth victim had a violent coughing spell while brushing her teeth. Surgeons dropped a wire through her mouth and got the brush out of her stomach.

Other reports of toothbrush swallowing in the U.S. are widespread with one case each in California, Tennessee and Louisiana.

Most incidents of toothbrush swallowing have taken place in recent years — but the first reported incident was in 1882 in Hong Kong.

AMBERVISION™ REVOLUTIONIZES EYEWEAR

High Technology Disguised As High Fashion

Don't be fooled by the appearance of these glasses! These are not ordinary sunglasses. Zip open tummies!

Clever Spanish surgeons have solved the problem of draining and cleaning severe abdominal infections — by using a stomach zipper.

The temporary zipper is sewn in place and allows easy access to the infected area. It is removed after the infection heals.

In the past surgeons had to frequently reopen stomachs to get inside.

The amazing zipper was reported in the Archives of Surgery journal by Dr. J.L. Garcia-Salcedo of the Hospital Provincial in Madrid.

BRUSH WITH DEATH

By HENRY WEBER

An artist retouched a model's portrait 67 times to reflect the changes in her life — then killed her for failing to live up to his expectations!

"Eric Gimel was once one of the most promising young artists in France but that single model and portrait became an obsession," Police Lt. Gerard Katz told reporters in Paris.

"He was madly in love with the girl but she didn't love him. In fact, she was a prostitute. And as her life became increasingly meaningless and sinful, he altered her portrait, making it uglier and more grotesque.

"He finally reached the conclusion that she was beyond redemption and knifed her to death in an alley."

Gimel, 28, was charged in the murder of 23-year-old Patrice Kraemer and jailed without bond in Paris, said the cop.

Ironically, an expert calls his portrait of the dead woman "genius of the first order."

"By removing layer upon layer of paint from the canvas we have found an incredible body of work," said Serge Righetti, who was hired to analyze the painting by Gimel's attorneys.

"He actually chronicles the descent of an innocent young woman into a life of sin and corruption. The first portrait is, indeed, that of an angel — blonde, blue-eyed and beautiful.

"Later renditions show the woman becoming haggard and drawn. In the end we see her as a demon with hard, wrinkled skin, wiry hair and bloody red worms for eyes.

"The portrait clearly shows us that Mr. Gimel crossed the very fine line between what is genius and what is insanity," he said.

Confused grampa takes 220-mile wrong turn

Oldster Cyril Johnke drove off for his Masonic lodge meeting one evening, took a wrong turn and ended up 220 miles away in another state.

Some 22 hours later, the 80-year-old man from Lehighton, Pa., stopped at a Fotomat booth and asked clerk Vivian Casagrande:

"Where's Pennsylvania?"

Vivian replied: "The avenue?"

"No, the state — where is it?" asked poor, lost Cyril.

He was in Copaigue, N.Y., at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Authorities arrived to help. Later, a neighbor of Cyril's drove to Copaigue and drove the lost oldster home.

Expert tells how to prevent teen suicide

By JACK ALEXANDER

You've got to stop, look and listen and believe what you see and hear — and maybe you can stop a teenager from committing suicide.

For every 10 youths who take their own lives, eight give out definite warning signals, said C. Patrick Mudd, director of the Louisville, Ky., Suicide Prevention Center. Some teens give such clues as . . . "There's nothing to live for . . . You're better off without me."

Others give away prized possessions, explaining they won't need them anymore, said Mudd. Some change sleeping or eating habits. Others have physical complaints.

"With teens, a lot of these warning signs are normal behavior," said Mudd.

"But when the behavior changes are coupled with use of the four main risk factors for depression in young people, it's time to do something."

The risk factors are family conflicts, especially those related to divorce, a strong fear of failure, fear of the future and peer pressure.

The best thing to do, if your gut tells you something's wrong, is to talk to the teen. Don't give up.

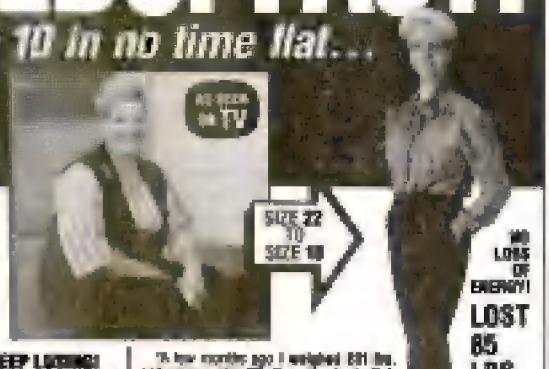
WITHOUT DIETING"

GUARANTEED to work for you too!



DIET DISCOVERY ASTOUNDS SCIENTIFIC COMMUNITY!

It what is being acclaimed a "major breakthrough", a group of European scientists have recently discovered a powerful new weight-loss formula that causes rapid weight loss without dieting. The discovery was made while researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, were searching for a compound to lower cholesterol. In a test group of people who took the formula, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but doctors were astounded to find that every patient had lost a significant amount of weight!

ACTUALLY SUPPRESSES ABSORPTION OF CALORIES!

Medical researchers quickly discovered that this new formula actually alters the way your body digests food. When taken before meals, it bonds with the food you eat and "ties up" calories, preventing their absorption. So a substantial portion of the ingested calories pass through and out of the digestive system unabsorbed. Even though you eat as much as you want, a rapid weight loss occurs, as your body burns fat to replace these lost (unabsorbed) calories.

CLINICALLY TESTED

Further medical tests of the new formula have been made in Sweden at Sahlgrenska Hospital, University of Gothenburg. Results published in the BRITISH JOURNAL OF NUTRITION stated: "Body weight was significantly reduced during the study even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits." This new compound is so powerful, so effective and so relentless in its attack on bulging deposits of fatty tissue that it has virtually eliminated the need for dieting or torturous exercise."

PROVEN SAFE/EFFECTIVE

After exhaustive testing, the new compound was determined to be safe and was formulated into one of the most effective weight-reducing pills of all time. This revolutionary formulation is being marketed in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000™. Mystery man seen by hospital staff just before miracle healings

Ghost doctor cures dying kids

By BEATRICE DEXTER

Three terminally ill children have been miraculously cured and 14 others are on the way to recovery following the visit of a mystery doctor that witnesses insist is a ghost!

Visitors and staff of Austria's famed Our Lady of Mercy Hospital in Linz report seeing a middle-aged man in a white surgeon's coat visiting the rooms of dying kids hours before the youngsters underwent dramatic changes for the better.

The man is not a member of the hospital staff and has not been identified, Austrian newspapers say.

"It has happened too many times to be some kind of hoax," the hospital's chief surgeon, Dr. Christian Lanc, told reporters.

"The description of the man is always the same.

"We've had at least 40 witnesses who have seen the man, but no one knows who he is or where he comes from."

Nursing staff at the hospital have made attempts to follow the ghostly doctor, but the man disappears mysteriously, Lanc said. Invariably, his appearance is associated with the sudden improvement of the child whose bedside he visits.

In one case, a 4-year-old leukemia victim attached to a respirator sat up in bed, removed the tubes connecting him to the machine and left his bed to ask nurses for a drink of water. Doctors later found that all signs of the boy's leukemia had disappeared.

"The mystery doctor has appeared in the operating theater," Dr. Lanc said. "He has been seen in the emergency room. He is a heavy-set, bearded individual with a kindly, care-worn face.

"He never speaks, but he has a very reassuring, very calm way about him. Most of my staff believe he is the ghost of a doctor who practiced in this hospital years ago."

A nursing supervisor who has made a thorough investigation of the sightings insists she knows who the healing spirit is. She says hospital records identify him as a Dr. Karl Lausecker, a pediatrician who treated charity ward patients at the hospital in 1898 and 1899.

He's the spirit of physician who died in 1899, experts believe

According to the nurse, Ingrid Moser, Dr. Lausecker died in late 1899 at the age of 48.

An old photograph shows that he wore a beard and was plumper than average.

"Records of his time show that he was especially dedicated to the care of little children and that he had a marvelous success rate in curing his patients," Miss Moser said.

"The doctor was known for his dedication and was seen around the hospital at all hours of the night and day caring for the children on the charity ward."

Lanc says doctors and nurses at the hospital have begun to consider the mysterious ghost's appearance as a good omen for their young patients and make it a rule never to interfere with him.

"We know that anytime we see the apparition in connection with a child, that child's condition is bound to improve," he said.

"It's as if this physician has come back from the grave to heal the sick. We feel that if that's his mission, we should stand aside and let him do his work."

Bankrupt farmer strikes it rich with $3 million lottery jackpot

Dean Flanery had to sell part of the family farm five years ago to make ends meet — and today he's a millionaire.

The fortunate farmer won $3 million in the first Lotto America lottery.

After taxes, he'll get a whopping $112,500 a year for 20 years.

"I've been through four or five years of hell," said Flanery of Guthrie Center, Iowa.

"I feel like maybe I have got a ton of weight off my shoulders — or maybe three million tons."

The fortunate farmer drove to Des Moines to collect his jackpot in the new lottery that operates in several states, including Iowa, West Virginia, Kansas, Missouri, Rhode Island, Oregon and the District

Married guys are richer and happier than singles

By JACK ALEXANDER

An amazing new study reveals that married men are healthier, wealthier and happier than single guys.

"The mental health of men improves unbelievably when they marry," said sociologist Ronald Kessler of the Michigan Institute for Social Research of the surprising results.

Husbands have a lower depression rate and are almost twice as likely to outlive a bachelor, and three times more likely to live longer than a divorced man.

Dr. Kessler says married men are healthier and happier because they aren't as lonely as bachelors. He said bachelors are lonelier than single women because they are more likely to make mostly casual relationships rather than close friends.

He says a good wife shields her husband from a lot of life's problems. And, he says, married men get more pay raises and promotions because marriage makes them more committed to their job.

Car thieves get corpses as a bonus

Red-faced funeral home officials had to explain to two families that their dearly departed had departed when a thief stole one of their cars.

Their van driver left the motor running when he ran into the office. When he returned, the van was gone and so were the bodies of a 55-year-old man and a 73-year-old woman. The driver had picked up the corpses from a London, England, hospital and was taking them to the mortuary.

Caring lady pays for strangers' funerals!

By JACK ALEXANDER

Softhearted oldster Lois Fredericks is deeply in debt because she keeps picking up the tab for the funerals of total strangers.

The 72-year-old Good Samaritan has borrowed $18,000 since July to bury eight children whose parents couldn't afford funerals.

"I haven't got many years left and all you can leave in this world is what you do for others," said the warmhearted widow from Dearborn Heights, Mich.

But the kindly old woman's compassion has been costly. She borrowed $16,000 from a credit union to bury the first seven kids and $2,000 from a friend for the eighth child.

She couldn't resist helping out last July when a three-year-old girl drowned in a washing machine. There have been seven others since then.

The latest was teen Rishonda Jones, 15, who starved to death in Detroit.

The old softie helps the living as well as the dead, taking leftover flowers from funerals to sick people in a VA hospital.

"I take them a couple of carloads of flowers every week," said Mrs. Fredericks. "I have a connection with a florist. They give me a very, very good price. She gives me lots of things for nothing."

Mom was a junkie, say cops

Police charged a mother with two counts of murder after they say she abandoned her newborn twins to go on a cocaine-snorting binge.

Authorities in Oakland, Calif., said 30-year-old Deborah Stewart had been using cocaine for two days before giving birth to her twin boys and left the infants behind as she continued to use the drug.

Kids' prank blamed for granny's death

Police say a prank proved to be fatal when five kids put a smoke bomb on an elderly woman's doorstep and she tragically died of a heart attack, thinking her house was on fire.

Authorities in Detroit said Sophia Rojewski, 69, had a history of heart trouble and suffered a heart attack when she opened her door to find her front porch filled with choking smoke.

Cops were looking for five children seen throwing something on the woman's doorstep.

"They probably thought it was funny," said Regina Rojewski, the victim's 73-year-old sister.

Teenage girl dies in bid to outrace train

A teenage girl was struck and killed by a speeding train while acting out a scene from the movie Stand by Me.

Kimberly Anne Stressner and three friends tried to recreate a scene in which four boys dodge trains.

"They actually heard the train's whistle and felt the rumble of the track," said Fairport, N.Y., police chief Joseph Pieciotti. "The victim challenged the train and lost."

The kids were charged with armed robbery and possession of crack cocaine, cops said.

Chrome domes may have less hair than other men — but they've got more brains, a surprising new study reveals!

According to endocrinologist Paul Rantala of Tempere, Finland, hormones that deprive a male of his crowning glory also beef up his IQ.

"To date, we have no explanation for our findings, but they are clear," Rantala wrote in a report on his four-year research study. "Bald males score higher in 24 key tests of intellectual ability, including conceptualization, abstract reasoning and recall.

"Our hypothesis is that hairless men metabolize the male hormone testosterone differently than men with a full head of hair. But how they do this, or why, we simply don't know."

Dr. Rantala and three colleagues at the University of Tempere studied 432 men between the ages of 35 and 60. The males — all bald as doorknobs — were compared to a control group of 500 men with lush growths of hair on their heads.

Rantala was hoping to understand the physical cause of baldness so that he could devise a simple hormonal adjustment that would trigger the production of hair. Instead, he found an astonishing difference in brain-power.

"We were hoping to find significant metabolic differences and indeed there were some," the physician told a conference of endocrinologists in Reykjavik, Iceland.

"Bald men had more receptors for the hormone testosterone, for example.

"But we were astonished to find that hairless men were superior intellectually. The difference was clear — bald men scored 22 percent higher overall on IQ tests," Rantala said.

He's begun follow-up research on testosterone.

He hopes to find a correlation between that hormone and the development of certain areas of the brain. He is also planning psychological profiles of bald men to see if their attitudes or life-styles lead to greater intellectual development. "It is possible that bald men spend a greater amount of time reading or studying," the scientist said.

Heartless wife drowns crippled husband

She pushes him into river — to collect insurance $

By PETE COOKE

A conniving wife who tricked her handicapped husband into going to the river for a swimming lesson has been convicted of drowning him to get her hands on his life insurance money.

"This was a cold, cruel, calculated, premeditated crime based on avarice and greed," said Judge Jack Arnold Welfeld as he sentenced Mrs. Susan D'Aquila to 60 years in prison for murdering her husband, Tony.

"Tony's married life was a living hell," the judge said during a sentencing hearing in the Chicago suburb of Maywood.

The couple had been married for just six months when D'Aquila, 37, who suffered from scoliosis, arthritis and club foot, drowned in the Des Plaines River.

During the five-day murder trial several witnesses testified that Mrs. D'Aquila, 33, told them she'd married her husband, who worked for the county's forest preserve district for 28 years, because she wanted his money.

Christi Abar, 23, testified that while she lived with the couple she saw Mrs. D'Aquila pin her crippled husband down, "punching him in the face," as blood flowed from his wounds "like a water faucet."

Prosecutor Carol Kelly said D'Aquila, who was able to walk only with braces, had a lifelong fear of the water and even feared drowning in the bath. But on the day D'Aquila died, his wife told friends "she was going to teach Tony to swim."

After arriving at the river, Mrs. D'Aquila pushed her helpless husband off a brick wall into the water and watched as he sank beneath the surface.

Authorities said that Mrs. D'Aquila stood to gain $59,500 in life insurance and $18,480 from her husband's pension in the event he died.

Spitting in public has govt. bigwigs foaming at the mouth

Government bigwigs are worried about the environment in crowded Hong Kong — because people won't stop spitting in public.

An intensive campaign is underway to warn the 5.7 million people in the British colony against the evils of spitting anywhere they please. The number of people convicted of spitting in public has dropped from 13,013 in 1985 to 11,171 last year.

"It is considered necessary to further publicise this anti-social habit," said a statement from the Urban Council.

Stupid safecrackers set fire to their loot

By JOE BERGER

Four bozo burglars dressed like legendary Ninja warriors have been cracking safes all over Concord, Calif., but they're not getting rich — because the dumbo desperadoes keep burning up the loot with their blowtorches.

But after setting fire to thousands of dollars in cash, the numbskull Ninjas finally struck it rich — and made off with a whopping $600 in singed bills from a store vault.

"They're getting better," laughed Detective Rich Berendsen.

During another attempt, the clumsy crooks drilled and drilled on a safe, then finally gave up when their drill bit broke off in the lock.

On several occasions the thieves have forced night janitors to let them into the building, then tied the custodians up and left them there.

Those workers said that the stumblebum burglars are dressed in black like Ninjas, members of a feudal Japanese society of mercenary assassins.

Biscuit tragedy

Police say a 19-year-old man shot and killed his uncle to end the argument they were having over biscuits!

Now Robert New Jr. is being held in Alabama's Mobile County Jail, charged with the murder of 39-year-old James New, Sheriff Tom Purvis said.

"It appears the man were drinking all day and they began to argue over the quality of the biscuits they were eating," said the cop. "Sometimes it doesn't take a lot to set some people off."

"But it's all a mistake, officer," the startled pickup truck driver said as he looked down the barrel of a Boulder, Colo., deputy sheriff's .357 magnum. And it was a mistake because the deputy thought the driver was shooting at him when the pickup truck backfired. A few minutes later the shaken motorist and the equally shaken cop were back on the road.

Dentist glues woman's mouth shut

But the guy wasn't a real doc, cops say

By JACK ALEXANDER

A young woman suffered through four agonizing hours of excruciating pain in a dental chair — as two "dentists" hammered away at a mold that was stuck tight to her teeth.

"I tried to let them know they were hurting me real bad, but I couldn't talk," Patricia Cook told The NEWS. "The pain was unbelievable.

"I still have nightmares about it."

Two brothers, Oscar and Marvin Moran, were charged with practicing dentistry without a license by cops in North Hollywood, Calif.

Mrs. Cook went to Oscar Moran because she was having problems with two of her front teeth.

After pulling two teeth and filing down four others, Moran told her that "he wanted to get an impression of my front teeth," she said.

"He tried several times to take an impression, but couldn't get it to hold," said Mrs. Cook, 22.

"By that time, the anesthesia had worn off and my mouth was throbbing in pain," the woman said.

Finally, Moran put a hot plastic mold on her teeth and left the room for a few minutes. The plastic had hardened when he returned, but he couldn't get it off, said Mrs. Cook.

"He started hammering on the mold trying to loosen it," said the pain-ridden woman. "I was in agony. I told him to please stop, but he said he knew what he was doing — and kept on hammering.

"That went on for more than an hour. I was trapped in that chair. I couldn't move. I couldn't talk. And I couldn't walk out of there with a plastic mold in my mouth," she said.

Moran's wife and sister-in-law were there and tried to help him loosen the mold. "He was sweating and really nervous," said Mrs. Cook.

After hammering and tugging at the mold for three hours, Moran phoned his brother, Marvin, for help.

"By that time my gums were bleeding and burning from the hot plastic," said Mrs. Cook. "I was crying. My entire face was one big pain."

An hour later, the frustrated brothers knocked the mold loose. Mrs. Cook was free to go.

"I wanted to run out of there but I could barely walk," she said.

"My husband picked me up. The next day I stopped payment on the $200 check I had paid him."

Mrs. Cook said her mouth was infected after the horrifying ordeal.

She was in so much pain, she had to sip liquids through a straw for eight days.

Crooks make tracks with rail line

A gang of daring desperadoes swiped 2,000 feet of railroad track — making off with the rails, the ties and even the gravel.

"They did a good job, too," said Great Falls, Mont., city engineer Stu Pearson.

The stolen spur ran from the Burlington Northern Railroad's main line into a Great Falls industrial park.

Pearson said the spur had not been used much lately but would be badly needed when the industrial park is fully occupied. He said it would cost about $160,000 to replace it.

"I couldn't believe it was gone," said the flabbergasted official. "But sure enough, you

Horror moves into the slow lane

A woman was near death after being shot in the neck by a gunman in a passing car — because her boyfriend was driving too slow.

Victim of the senseless shooting near Mt. Dora, Fla.,

Troy Washington, 23, had passed a two-tone Buick a few minutes before the shooting. A woman was driving and the gunman was in the front seat next to her.

"The Buick blinked its side of the road," said police Sgt. Norman Warren.

"As the Buick got closer a shot was fired through the rear window of Washington's car, hitting his girlfriend in the neck," he said.

Cane-wielding granny scares away burglar!

By JACK ALEXANDER

Crippled granny Catherine Sullivan chased a burglar out of her home by screaming at the top of her lungs — and conking him with her cane.

"If I had the strength I would have gotten up and hit him over the head with a hammer, but I couldn't get up off the floor," said the feisty old woman.

Mrs. Sullivan, 68, clubbed the crook with her cane as he climbed through the window of her apartment in Boston, Mass.

The burglar easily overpowered the old woman and slammed her to the floor. After slugging her in the mouth, he began choking her.

"I thought I was dead for sure when he had me by the throat," she said. "He was screaming, 'I'm going to kill you. I'm going to kill you. I want your money. I want your money or I'll kill you.'"

The spunky oldster, who suffers from arthritis and a heart condition, pounded her cane on the floor repeatedly and screamed for help.

"He was going crazy in that apartment," she said. "It's in a shambles. He was throwing things. He had an insane look like he was on drugs."

Apparently worried that the courageous aging woman's screams would attract neighbors, the burglar ran out her front door.

A man identified by police as Bernard Auch, 21, was arrested nearby and charged with breaking and entering and assault and battery.

Mrs. Sullivan suffered some aches and pains but was not seriously injured.

"I didn't want him to get away with it," she said.

GUTSY Catherine Sullivan didn't hide in terror when a burglar invaded the peace and quiet of her home.

Hundreds watch in amazement as ghost jet circles airport

Dead pilot lands plane!

NEWSPAPER reports say pilot Yaseen Nezami died three hours before he landed his F-14 Tomcat at an Iranian airfield. He was returning from a raid over Iraq, say reports.

By HENRY WEBER

An Iranian fighter jet circled an airfield for a solid hour before it landed with a dead man at the controls!

Tehran radio reports said at least 200 Air Force personnel watched the American-made F-14 Tomcat interceptor make a perfect landing after performing a series of acrobatics, including several victory rolls, over the unidentified air base.

Shockingly, the report said pilot Yaseen Nezami had taken a cannon shell to the chest and had been dead for at least three hours.

The jet's fuel tanks were also punctured, meaning that it had been flying without any visible means of propulsion.

"How can a jet fly without fuel, with a dead pilot? This is a mystery that man will never solve," said Iranian Air Force spokesman Yussef Arabi.

"Obviously this was the will of Allah. He wanted the pilot and plane to come home."

The report made no mention of Nezami's mission but it is assumed from military reports that he encountered anti-aircraft fire while flying his plane on a raid over Iran's enemy, Iraq.

The Ayatollah Khomeini had no immediate comment on the incident.

But it is widely believed that he will bring it up in a propaganda campaign against Iraq.

Psychic force guided fighter back to earth, say experts

Parapsychological experts asked to comment on the report were divided in their opinions. Switzerland's Daniel Wepter suggested that the Iranians may have exaggerated certain aspects of the case.

But Germany's Edward Fischer argued that "dead men have performed wondrous feats throughout history" in spite of the fact that living men have trouble understanding them.

"Literature is full of such accounts," the expert said. "Dead men have pulled their friends from burning houses and delivered messages to loved ones.

"It is generally believed that they accomplish these things through a so-called 'residual power of will.' They are so intent on completing a task they are actually able to follow through after death.

"The Iranians are a fanatical people and believe that their war against Iraq is a holy mission. It's my guess that this pilot simply refused to admit that the Iraqis disabled his plane and killed him and re-

Wow! Dinosaur egg's 150 million years old!

That's the skeleton of an Allosaurus behind Miller, above.

ELEVATOR HORROR

A 90-year-old man was crushed to death in a freak accident while helping repair an elevator.

Aged William Beatty was sitting on a chair in the elevator with his feet resting on the floor outside when the elevator began to rise without warning.

Beatty's feet were caught between the car and the wall of the shaft, said Pittsburgh, Pa., police Sgt. John O'Connor. He

Psychic predicts love for herself

By DICK DONOVAN

A psychic card reader named Helen dealt herself a winning hand when she foretold that a man she had never met would get a divorce. Not only did her prediction come true — now that man is hers!

'It was in the cards!'

The stunning, 28-year-old ash-blonde saw it all in the cards: "Your son will be divorced within a year," Helen said when the mother of wealthy businessman Richard Bult came to her for a reading.

The amused mother merely laughed off the prediction because she knew her son was very happily married.

But in less than a year, Richard's 10-year marriage went on the rocks and the executive left his wife and three young children. Not long after, Richard went to see Helen himself and BAM! It was love at first sight.

Richard and Helen are now living together in a lovely cottage on Rimmel Bay, in the north of Wales.

"It really is incredible," 30-year-old Richard said. "I had never even heard of Helen when I left my wife.

"But now we are very happy and very much in love. It was just meant to be." Despite their present state of bliss, Helen admits the road at first was a little rocky.

"Some people have made some nasty remarks," she explained.

"People think I'm just after Richard's money. They just can't believe it happened the way it did.

"But I knew seven years ago that a man named Richard would be coming into my life.

"It was in the cards."

Whipping up tasty East Indian and Chinese dishes at her mom's pub in London, England, is the specialty of happy Tanya Axford. The only bad part about cooking, says Tanya, is washing up the pots and pans after.

Lost wallet found 40 years later!

Family photos and war medals were still tucked in John Igou's wallet when he got it back — 40 years after he lost it.

No money was in the wallet but it contained the medals. Gilreath called Igou, 63, who lost the billfold in 1945.

Raising cane costs a granny $25,000!

A Canadian judge has ordered an 80-year-old granny to cough up $25,000 in damages — for being a mite too careless with her cane!

By ROSE GRADY

Vancouver Judge Lee Skipp was told that while on a European trip with a group of retirees, free-swinging Jane Ettinger:

★ Poked an elderly fellow traveler in the eye!

★ Had to be warned to be careful while touring a glass factory!

But it was the eye-poking incident alone that has cost Mrs. Ettinger the big bucks. Elizabeth Muriel Frost said she was poked in the eye by the tip of Mrs. Ettinger's cane during a Tyrolean fun-night in Innsbruck, Austria.

Quite Mrs. Frost carried on with the tour, not even telling her husband how serious it was until they returned home when doctors found she had lost vision in her right eye.

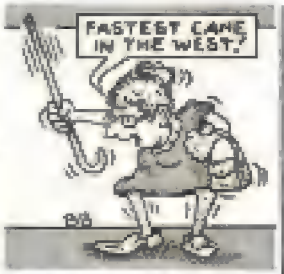
She filed suit for damages, claiming that Mrs. Ettinger had failed to "keep her cane under control and at a reasonable level for its intended purpose."

She said Mrs. Ettinger had the cane in her right hand with the tip pointed up and that "she knew" she had poked her in the eye.

Mrs. Frost also said she saw Mrs. Ettinger "hit this gentleman in the testicles and he said, 'You've ruined my family jewels.'"

That was enough for Judge Skipp. He ordered Mrs. Ettinger to pay Mrs. Frost $25,000 in damages for "using a cane without reasonable care and attention."

There was no word on whether the keeper of the ruined "family jewels" has any court action planned.



Nun strangles cat

A Roman Catholic nun was fined $500 for strangling a kitten that mewed too loudly at night.

Sister Franziska Lakse of Graz, Austria, admitted strangling the kitten with a cord after being told she couldn't keep it in the convent because it mewed too loudly.

The 57-year-old nun said she would appeal her conviction on the animal cruelty charges. She could be sentenced to 30 days in jail after saying that she can't pay the fine.

Man jailed for getting ahead!

A young man was sentenced to jail for chopping the head off a dead man that his buddy had accidentally killed.

Philip Barbowski, 26, pleaded guilty in New York City to cutting the head off the corpse of Thomas Palmese, 25, with a kitchen knife.

Palmese bit the dust when James Lynn, 24, accidentally fired a shotgun during a drug deal. Barbowski agreed to help Lynn hide the body.

After cutting off the victim's head, the two men drove around with it in their car the rest of the day, said police.

The next day Lynn and another man threw the head into a river. It was later found by a duck hunter.

Lynn was convicted of second-degree manslaughter and sentenced to prison for four to 12 years. Barbowski got 30 days in jail and three years' probation.

Diet Pills Sweeping U.S.

Doctors Invent 'Lazy Way' to Lose Weight

New Fat Magnet Diet Pill Guarantees Fast Weight Loss

BEVERLY HILLS, CA (Special) — An amazing new weight loss pill called "fat-magnet" has recently been developed and perfected by two prominent doctors at a world famous hospital in Los Angeles that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose fat by simply taking their tested and proven new pill.

No Dieting—Eat Normally

Best of all, "you can continue to eat all of your favorite foods and you don't have to change your normal eating habits. You will start losing fat from the very first day, until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

There has never been anything like it before. It is a totally new major medical breakthrough for weight loss (worldwide patent pending).

Flushes Fat Out of Body

The new pill is appropriately called the "fat-magnet" pill because it breaks into thousands of particles, each acting like a tiny magnet, "attracting" and trapping many times its size in fat particles. Then, all that trapped fat is naturally "flushed" right out of your body because it cannot be digested.

Within 2 days you will notice a change in the color of your stool as the fat particles are being eliminated.

"Pills Do All the Work"

According to the doctors, the fat-magnet pills do all the work while you quickly lose fat with no starvation diet menus to follow, no calorie counting, no exercising, and no hunger pangs. It is 100% safe. You simply take the pills with a glass of water before meals.

The fat-magnet pills have just been offered to the American public and are already sweeping the country with record sales and reports of dramatic weight loss. It's the "lazy way" to lose weight for people who enjoy eating.

Now Available to Public

If you need to lose 20, 30, 100 pounds or more, you can order your supply of these new highly successful fat-magnet pills (now available from the doctor's exclusive manufacturer by toll free phone order only) $20 for a 90 pill supply (+$2 handling), or $35 for a 180 pill supply (+$3 handling). (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not 100% satisfied.)

To order Fat-Magnet simply call toll-free 1(800) 527-9700, ext. 333H. Operators standing by 24 hours. Visa, MasterCard and American Express OK.

Loverboy's eyes were roving before couple said 'I do'

Bride kills groom at the altar!

By LAUREL BOWIE

Starry-eyed bridegroom Pierre Paul Pestre and his blushing bride Danielle Du had just said "I do" before 400 hushed wedding guests when Danielle suddenly grabbed up a vase of violets — and beat poor Pierre to death with it!

Deadly Danielle later told cops she crushed her new hubby's skull in a fit of rage when she caught him eyeballing her shapely maid of honor at the altar.

"She picked up a big crystal vase and brought it down on his head like a sledgehammer — and she'd just married the man two minutes before that," shattered Pastor Paul Brousse told reporters in Reims, France.

"Nobody there could believe what they were seeing. It had been such a beautiful wedding up until then."

The bizarre tale of romance and murder began four months earlier when wine merchant Pierre, 30, met dazzling Danielle, 23, in one of Paris' fanciest discotheques.

"He started raving about this wonderful girl he'd found," said Pierre's grieving niece Claudine, 38.

"But when he brought her home to meet us, we were all very disappointed.

"Dani was beautiful but she was so possessive and ill-tempered."

Nevertheless, when the lovestruck salesman insisted he wanted to marry her two-fisted fiancee, his family chipped in thousands of dollars to make the wedding an event to remember.

"When the big day finally came, everything was so lovely," said Pierre's shell-shocked mom Michelle. "Our friends and family came from everywhere, and Dani's parents seemed very nice. We really got swept up in the festivities."

But their happiness turned to horror moments after the pastor pronounced Dani and her beau man and wife.

"Pierre had been watching and smiling at my maid of honor Nicole all through the ceremony," the green-eyed bride told investigators. "I got angrier and angrier and finally I couldn't take it anymore and I hit him with the flowers. I never dreamed it would kill him."

But dangerous Dani, still wearing her white lace wedding gown, was whisked away to jail on a murder charge.

Cop Daniel Mosnier said, "This just has to be the shortest marriage in history."

One-legged jock is a great skate!

By JOE BERGER

High-flying Frank Genco hardly looks like a human dynamo. But at 52, the hustling hypnotist still beats men half his age in grueling marathon races — and he does it on one leg and a roller skate!

"Everybody gets there the best way they can," tree-wheeling Frank happily told reporters. "For me, this skate is the best way."

The one-legged wonder from Covina, Calif., has competed in scores of marathons and 10-kilometer races, using steel crutches like ski poles to push himself along the miles and miles of concrete.

And though he's taken his share of lung-jarring spills, fightin' Frank has always picked himself up — and he's always finished the race.

Amazingly, he managed to zip home third in one event, and he has the ribbon to prove it.

"I'm very proud of that," he said. "I have a lot of competitive drive."

The rolling rocket also has a secret weapon.

Over the years, he's used mind over matter to help more than 50,000 clients quit smoking, shed pounds, conquer stress and fears or improve their athletic performance. The high-hustling hypnotist used the same power of suggestion techniques to motivate himself when a big race comes along — and they obviously haven't let him down yet.

"Hypnosis doesn't give me anything I don't already have," said the one-legged whiz kid.

"It just helps me live up to my potential."

Teen's tragic death sets off cop's manhunt!

By JACK ALEXANDER

Dogged detective work by a smart cop may have located the hit-run driver of a semi that lost a wheel on a highway — crushing a teenage motorist.

DETERMINED cop Dave Ross displays the wheel and tire he traced to arrest a suspect.

Stephanie Kee, 18, was smashed when the heavy, 3-foot-high tire and wheel bounced 50 feet in the air and came crashing down on her compact car.

"I took it personal," said Charleston, W. Va., Deputy Dave Ross. "I wanted some answers. I wanted to know why the truck didn't stop. So I just stayed with it."

Witnesses said the 14-wheel tractor-trailer kept on going, apparently unaware that he had lost a wheel and tire.

Within minutes after the bizarre accident, Ross alerted police along Interstate 79 to be on the lookout for the semi. Every exit in both directions from the accident scene was also checked out.

But the semi seemed to have vanished into thin air.

Ross checked the serial number on the tire with the manufacturer and learned it was one of 250,000 manufactured by the company in April 1987. Tracing one would be impossible. Two weeks after the accident, Ross got his big break when the tire was separated from the wheel.

"Phillips Tire Co." was scrawled in magic marker on the inside of the wheel.

"It was a stroke of luck because the manufacturer only marks a few of the tires or wheels when they deliver to the retailers," said Ross.

The cop traced Phillips Tire Co. to Scranton, Pa., and learned the tire belonged to Imperial Foods Co. of Moosic, Pa. The driver was identified as John Harrison, 31.

"The trucking company now says the driver stopped about 30 miles north of Charleston and noticed he had a tire missing. But he didn't know it had hit anything," said Ross.

Deputy Ross is taking his case to a grand jury. The driver could be charged with failure to stop and render aid, leaving the scene of an accident and driving with defective equipment.

Convicts in Saudi Arabian prisons can get half their sentence lopped off if they learn the Koran by heart.

The Moslem holy book is bigger than the Bible and learning every word in it would take at least two years.

Many of the country's inmates got to work right away reading the Koran. The offer also applies to foreigners in Saudi prisons if they can read Arabic.

Doctor Discovers Cure For Psoriasis!

95% of Psoriasis Sufferers are Cured by New Natural Treatment

A remarkable new treatment using no shots, harmful creams, medicines or drugs has been discovered by Dr. Robert Connolly of the Psoriasis Clinic.

For years Dr. Connolly sympathized with patients who were forced to live with the pain and embarrassment of Psoriasis.

What's more, those who tried to find relief by visits to doctors, dermatologists – who tried creams, medicines and special treatments were eventually told there is no cure.

Psoriasis up until now was an incurable skin disease that afflicted at least three million Americans. It shows up most often as red, itchy patches on the skin covered with thick silvery scales. One of the most common treatments is a cream or ointment containing steroids, but long term use of steroids can damage the skin according to The National Psoriasis Foundation.

In Dr. Connolly's study, lasts were treated with a revolutionary new approach using the energy system of the body to eliminate the cause of Psoriasis. Conventional treatments focuss on the effects of the disease rather than the cause and for that reason they ultimately fail.

No more itching
No more scales

As one sufferer related "I couldn't go swimming or wear dresses because I was so ashamed and embarrassed. I went to doctors and dermatologists, used creams, took shots, slept in plastic suits, but there was no change. Then I started Dr. Connolly's program and early in October I was clear."

Another typical sufferer had been told there was no cure for Psoriasis. "I thought I'd go crazy. I was skeptical but in one month scales are virtually all gone, the itching has disappeared and my skin is beautiful."

GIANT HOROSCOPE

By Countess Sophia Sabak

ARIES

Mar. 21-Apr. 19

An interesting new challenge is likely to come your way in the week ahead. Be positive, rely on your instincts and you will definitely come out a winner.

Aries impatience could cause family problems in the near future unless you are careful. Strive to be more tolerant of others and you will be pleasantly surprised.

Be wary of an unusual offer that may soon be presented to you. Use your common sense and get advice from people you can trust.

TAURUS

Apr. 20-May 20

Be prepared to take advantage of a creative urge that may bring exciting changes in your life. Don't worry about what others think and you will be rewarded.

Your typical Taurus sense of loyalty could cause problems when someone you trust tries to take advantage of you. Try to be more objective in evaluating the actions of friends.

You may have an opportunity to settle a long-standing family dispute in the week ahead.

GEMINI

May 21-June 20

An inspired hunch should provide the solution to a long-term cash problem. As usual, you'll end up with your devilish good luck!

Your Gemini patience may soon pay big dividends. Success and added status will have others gnashing their teeth in unbridled envy.

Be on the lookout for a very subtle expression of love which you may miss if you allow yourself to be too self-absorbed. Moodiness is one of your faults. Don't let it stand in the way of good things.

CANCER

June 21-July 22

You seem to need solid proof that you are loved by all who know you. It's time to sort out casual friends and acquaintances from your nearest and dearest. Give yourself a break and smile. Your influence isn't going unnoticed.

This is not a week for rash actions. Whatever you do, look before you leap.

You may be faced with a problem that could get out of hand. But your Cancerian ability to compromise will save the day.

LEO

July 23-Aug. 22

That fantastic burst of Leo energy comes in handy this week as you tackle chores around the house and somehow find time to help out a pal.

Stars highlight romance for Leo. A special person will be strongly attracted to you. Take time for a cozy dinner and maybe some dancing. Nothing beats the warm glow of love.

Stars indicate that travel is especially hazardous on Thursday and Friday. Take care even on short jaunts from home.

VIRGO

Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Your Virgo helpfulness will be taken advantage of if you don't start putting your foot down.

Take time out to tend to your own affairs before you get yourself in a bind. Tell your pals to go it alone for a while.

Extraordinary financial rewards could be yours if you are alert to an upcoming opportunity. Don't be afraid to take a chance. But don't leap in without first checking out those who would be handling your investment.

LIBRA

Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Hold on tight, Libra. There are big changes in the air and things could start popping pretty soon. Keep a sharp lookout for those who would coax you into compromising your principles in search of wealth. Pressures from outside the home could force major changes in your personal life.

Your Libra friendliness has you on good terms with someone in authority. Take advantage of it.

Something big and brown could bring luck.

SCORPIO

Oct. 23-Nov. 21

Good news, Scorpio. A problem that's been plaguing you for months could seem to disappear into thin air in a few days. If and when it does, celebrate the occasion by relaxing with friends and family and enjoying your newfound peace of mind. It's time to smile again.

Don't let your Scorpio spitefulness cause a rift with an old friend. Give others lots of room.

Someone close could be dying to share a secret with you — and it's a humdinger!

SAGITTARIUS

Nov. 22-Dec. 21

You need some stimulation this week. Your Sagittarius love of variety has you bored with the same old humdrum activities. Seize every opportunity to try something new.

A tempting offer may come your way, but don't make hasty decisions. If this venture is as good as promised, you can think about it for a while and still not lose your chance at it.

You have excited admiration in someone near you and are much in this person's thoughts.

CAPRICORN

Dec. 22-Jan. 19

A casual meeting with someone this week could bring about big changes in your life, Capricorn, provided you keep an open mind. This is an especially lucky time for you socially.

Repetitive tasks may make you irritable right now. Try for variety in your work.

You will enjoy a burst of energy and creativity over the next few weeks. Your renewed vigor should help you deal with ticklish problems that have resisted solution.

AQUARIUS

Jan. 20-Feb. 18

It is a natural Aquarius trait for you to be tolerant of others. Be careful that friends and acquaintances don't view this as a weakness and take advantage of you.

You may feel a bit cranky this week but don't take it out on people closest to you. Perhaps this isn't a good time to be around people any more than is necessary.

The stars say a stranger may walk into your life this week and

PISCES

Feb. 19-Mar. 20

Being a bit unrealistic at times is one of the bad points of being a Pisces. But this may be the week to escape from reality.

Chances are good that you may reach an important personal goal this week.

Try considering solutions rather than spending time worrying about problems.

If your birthday is this week . . .

The year ahead should be full of surprises, ranging from a big cash gift to a new home and possibly even an addition to your family! June kicks off the fun with exciting social opportunities and the beginning of a great new friendship.

August promises to be extra special, too. Don't be surprised if a relative opens his wallet and shares some good financial fortune with you. A lottery or sweepstakes win is also possible. Enter all the contests you can.

FOWL PLAY

By LAUREL BOWIE

Ornery oldster Carl Castan killed and ate his wife's precious, prize-winning duck just to be mean. Now cranky Carl has to find another crackerjack quacker fast — or he'll wind up in prison.

"The judge says if I don't replace her old super-duck with one just exactly like it, he's going to lock me up for three months," the shook-up hubby told reporters outside Munich, West Germany.

"He gave me six weeks to look, but the time's almost up and there isn't another duck like that to be found. I've searched high and low. I'm really desperate. I guess that rotten little bird is going to have the last laugh after all."

She walked out on 71-year-old Carl after 36 years of marriage.

"My husband was always a stinker, but the older he got the grouchier he got," Frieda later told the court.

"Finally, I couldn't take his nagging anymore and I got out."

The hightailing lady moved to her sister's farm 30 miles away, taking along her four beloved pet ducks — including Hildegarde, a beautiful cinnamon teal who'd waddled away with 16 ribbons and trophies from fairs and poultry shows.

"When I left him, Carl was beside himself," weeping Frieda recalled. "He kept phoning me, ordering me to come home.

"When he wasn't phoning, he was over at my sister's house threatening me and demanding I go with him.

"He kept telling me if I didn't come home to him, he was going to do terrible things to my Hildegarde. He knew how much I loved that duck."

Frantic Frieds persuaded the court to issue a restraining order forbidding crotchety Carl from harassing her or her web-footed wonder.

But that very night, the hot-headed hubby birdnapped Hildegarde — and barbecued the luckless duck in his backyard.

And the next morning, heartsick Frieda found a shoebox on her doorstep — filled with hapless Hildegarde's shiny brown feathers.

When Judge Heinrich Ruppert learned of Carl's fowl deed, he gave the oldster six weeks to replace Hildy with a bird of "similar breeding, appearance and prize-winning potential" — or go to prison.

Since then, the panicky pensioner has run newspaper ads and visited farms all over Germany in a vain search for a Hildegarde look-alike.

Jury tells rude guy to pay waitress $200Gs

A cocktail waitress at the Branding Iron Restaurant was awarded $202,902 by jurors after she was assaulted by a customer with an electric cattle prod.

Nereda Grant, 40, filed the suit in Seattle against businessman Richard Selland, who was convicted of simple assault earlier.

Miss Grant said Selland, the owner of Selland Auto Transport, repeatedly poked her with an electric cattle prod and she required medical treatment for injuries to her arm and chest.

Croc terror

Frightened villagers have begged cops to shoot hungry crocodiles that have eaten five of their neighbors alive.

The ferocious crocs are attacking several people each week along the Kafue River near Lusaka, Zambia.

FIRST FUNERAL IN HISTORY HALTED BY

UFO beams corpse into sky — and brings it back to life!

By HENRY WEBER

Space aliens took dead Hector Morillo aboard a starship and brought him back to life while his family watched in disbelief!

"It's a miracle from heaven," Marta Morillo, the man's wife, told reporters in Juarez, Argentina. "Doctors said my Hector was dead and there was nothing they could do for him.

"But those space creatures have powers greater than that of any man. They gave my husband the most precious gift of all. They gave him back his life."

The drama allegedly unfolded three days after Morillo, 46, suffered a fatal heart attack, said newspapers.

Father Celiar Rodriguez was actually conducting the dead man's funeral when the silver-gray starship swooped down from the sky and sucked his wife, son and daughter aboard with a greenish white tractor beam.

"The coffin went up, too," said the priest, "and I could hardly believe my eyes.

"The family cried out for help but we were alone in the cemetery and there was nothing I could do.

"I prayed for God to protect them on their journey."

When the family vanished in the belly of the ship the UFO took off over the horizon, said the priest. He reported the incident to local authorities, who the priest said, acted like "I was a lunatic."

Their laughter stopped abruptly six days later, said newspapers, when Morillo walked back into town with his family in tow.

Curiously, their only recollection of the experience was the initial meeting with the aliens, "who were shaped like human brains and floated in air like smoke."

"When we found ourselves on the outskirts of town it was as if we had awakened from a long, dreamless sleep," said Mrs. Morillo.

"We went directly to Father Rodriguez and told him what happened but he was as confused as we were.

"He told us that some things are not for men to understand. He said the Lord works in mysterious ways."

Morillo himself pointed out that he feels better and healthier now than ever before in his life.

"I am rejuvenated," he continued. "But if you're asking me to explain what has happened, I can't. For some reason my life has been given back to me. I am so grateful to those space creatures.

"Now it is up to me to make the most of the time I have left."

Manuel Bernaus, president of the Argentine Institute for UFO research, said the family's experience is "a compelling new chapter in the study of UFOs."

Dr. Hernando Hualde, who originally pronounced Morillo dead, refused to discuss the incident, said newspapers.

Dead man's family went along for the ride

'I was sprayed like a roach!'

Insecticide leaves man crippled for life

Francis Larrew used to work with chemicals, but he doesn't work at all now — because he's been crippled by insecticide just like the one he used to spray bugs with.

In his work cleaning grain elevators, the 59-year-old Eads, Colo., man used to handle deadly quantities of Malathion, the same stuff housewives use to kill pests. He was told the chemical wouldn't harm him, but it did. Now he's on permanent disability.

"I was sprayed like a roach," Larrew told The NEWS. "It makes me mad. I was supposed to use gas masks, special clothes and special shoes, but I had none of it. My boss told me that stuff wouldn't hurt — he said you could drink it and take a bath in it. I sued the company I worked for and we got money out of them, but it's no money at all for what damage has been done."

When insecticide poisoning first showed up in Larrew in 1979, the father of five had no idea what it was. It hit suddenly and it was devastating.

And for a long time, even though doctors were searching for a diagnosis, no one knew what ailed him.

"I could hardly move my arms and legs. I got worse and worse," he recalled.

"They doctored me for everything. I had five spinal taps. They had to carry me around. The doctors knew what I didn't have, but they didn't know what I did have."

After four hellish years, Larrew finally found out he'd been poisoned with Malathion. By that time it was too late to stop the crippling condition.

Elephant goes berserk and kills cameraman

An angry bull elephant charged out of a cave and killed a cameraman and seriously wounded a handler during filming of a TV show near Johannesburg, South Africa. The elephant went berserk and slammed handler Norman Bristow to the ground, breaking his arm. Then the beast gored the camera-

Sex-change doc weds wife No. 2

Couple defies judge

By JACK ALEXANDER

A judge says Dr. Edward Peterson is a woman, but that didn't stop the sex-change divorcee from taking another wife.

The talented psychiatrist, who was Wendy Patricia Acton until sex surgery in his 20s, married Elizabeth "Biddy" Baxter in a hush-hush ceremony in Peterborough, England.

Peterson, 50, made the headlines in The NEWS 2½ years ago when his sex change was publicly disclosed during a divorce hearing before Judge Jonathan Clarke.

Dr. Edward Peterson

Elizabeth Baxter

"We are very happily married. The fact that he was once a woman does not matter," said Peterson's new bride, a widow and mother of four children.

And it didn't matter to his first wife, Sandra, who said their love life wasn't a problem. She divorced him because he spent too much time working at the hospital.

"He's as masculine as the next guy," Sandra said in 1985. "It wouldn't matter to me if he had come from another planet.

"All I know is that I thought I had a lovely, normal marriage to a very masculine man. Our marriage was normal and the same as anyone else's for all intents and purposes."

But the judge ruled Peterson is a woman, sex change or no sex change.

"The law as I see it is clear, that a person's sex is determined effectively and for all time at birth," said the judge in annulling the marriage on grounds that two women can't legally marry.

Mrs. Peterson said she and her new hubby wanted to keep the marriage a secret in fear the publicity would wreck his career.

Peterson isn't worried about the legality of his marriage. "I have a wedding certificate," he said.

Career gals too tired for romance, reveals survey

Yuppie gals are dynamos in the workplace but duds in the bedroom — because they're too tired for sex!

A staggering 54 percent of young working women surveyed by Glamour magazine said fatigue had made a shambles of their sex lives.

they were so pooped out that they made love only once a week.

Nearly 19 percent said they managed only once or twice a month. And a surprising 4 percent flatly admitted that last time they did anything but sleep in the sack!

"I like to think that we have so much in our relationship that we don't need sex, but maybe I'm just kidding myself," one of those poor ladies wrote.

Another woman offered a common excuse: "My husband works nights and I work days. We love each other but we just never see each other."
